TAXATION IS BIG PROBLEM OF ASSEMBLY

Fine Opportunity Presented but Lawmakers May Muss It Up

DAVIS FOR U. S. SENATOR

Legislature Is Crowding the Limit In Enactment of "Emergency Acts"

(By MARCUS)

COLUMBUS—No such opportunity ever faced a legislative body in Ohio as lies ahead of the Eighty-fourth General Assembly. A solution for the taxation worries is in sight, tossed into its lap by the business, industrial, agricultural and civic interests and the problem before it is whether the body can bring itself not to meddle, but to sign on the dotted line, talk as little as possible that the people of Ohio may not be made suspicious and wait for them to act. Tho seemingly complete, the situation is actually in a most delicate condition and a few ill-advised moves may completely wreck it. Final action lies with the voters of Ohio and as they are given reassurance or made skeptical, the tide will swing. Broadly speaking, they are ready to trust the several state committees which worked out a solution and to take it at pretty much its face value. Still, there will be organized opposition to elimination of the unit rule in taxation, which naturally has friends even tho 70 winters have demonstrated it will not be what its name implies.

* * *

There are three arms to the compromises which are reaching their culmination in the Ohio General Assembly: The rigid debt limitation in combination with prevention of issuance of bonds for current expenses and limitation of bonds for public improvements to the estimated life of such improvements; temporary suspension of the Smith one per cent tax law in order to give cities enough revenue to live until relief comes and the removal of the uniform rule. As part of the uniform rule, the real estate owners of Ohio are to be assured that the rate is not to exceed 15 mills, unless by a specific vote of the electors in any district at a regular general election and upon which a majority of all those voting have passed affirmatively. The idea in this form was broached first by Vic Donahey two years ago before the classification amendment was submitted, but laughed at then as being a wild dream. It formed the basis of the Ohio Home Protective league campaign and it grew in favor as time went on, being accepted at last by the business and commercial interests. In a word, it is a home owners' proposition if it is applied in good faith with an honest endeavor to get revenue from sources other than real estate. That will be the point upon which many persons will be anxious to be informed.

* * *

Notwithstanding the constantly recurring evidences of hostility to the referendum as witnessed by 13 pending or approved emergency clauses in a time when no grave incident has occurred in Ohio, voters in November may be called upon for more decisions than have been laid before them in any year since 1912. There is the soldiers bonus now already submitted. There will be the chiropractors' bill, when the general assembly under no circumstances will enact. There is the bonded indebtedness amendment to the constitution, the new taxation amendment and there are almost certain to be referenda on some of the other measures to be enacted. The drug legislation is one of the subjects upon which the case may be appealed to the popular legislative body, the whole number of electors; reorganization is another and abolition of the Ohio Board of Administration is still another. Popular clat is may be in great demand in the campaigns of education which are held needful to give the voters the fine discernment they need.

* * *

Upon the conduct of the general assembly in respect to the things that are enacted will depend the fate of the taxation propositions, in all likelihood. If the body makes itself popular by discarding all doubtful propositions it can go before the people with the taxation plans handed it and see them approved by enormous majorities, or it may continue to bring everything it touches into such disrepute that the voters will refuse dispositions at its hands. This was the substance of the warning delivered by a stalwart majority member, Representative C. H. Freeman, of Hardin-co, chairman of the taxation committee, in his outburst a few days ago. Freeman rose up like a lion to send forth a

Woman City Club Raided By Ohio Mob

Angry Citizens Attempt to Stop Villard's Speech at Cincinnati

Riot Call Is Sent In and Crowd Dispersed by Police

CINCINNATI — An investigation, that, it is promised, will involve leading business men of this city, will be demanded Monday, in connection with the attempt here Saturday by members of a separate organization, to raid the hall of the Woman's City Club, in which Oswald Garrison Villard, New York editor, was making a speech.

The mob was intent on suppressing Villard, to whose alleged war record certain groups made objection.

Replying to these groups, the sponsors of Villard quoted from his book to show he had wished ardently for the defeat of the kaiser, two years before America entered the war.

GLASS DOOR SMASHED

Villard's backers declared that he would be permitted to make his speech regardless of opposition of the minority.

The raiders broke into the club rooms while Villard was making an appeal for universal peace, thru disarmament. They smashed the glass in a door leading to an ante-room next the hall in which Villard was speaking.

They demanded to be let into the hall. Large folding doors opening into the hall were immediately closed and men and women butressed the doors with their bodies.

Dr. Herbert D. Brown, a wounded ex-service man, made an appeal to the raiders.

"This man is all right," he cried. "If he were not, I would not be here listening to him. Let's be fair."

RIOT CALL MADE

The crowd demanded admission to the hall. In the meantime a riot call for the police was sent in and Chief William Copelan responded with two squads of reserves. The club house was quickly cleared of the raiders.

Guy Mallon, prominent attorney, who had insisted on Villard's right to be heard and had battled with the raiders, was cut about the face by flying glass. Women were in the majority in the audience and a near-panic ensued when the rioters broke in.

Villard finished his speech and under escort of police, left the hall. He said he would leave the city when he was ready.

JACK HORNER PUT ON COMMITTEE

Lima Man Chosen by Ohio National Guard Association.

COLUMBUS—Passage of the Harding bill providing for a state constabulary was urged upon the Ohio general assembly in a resolution adopted Saturday at the concluding session of the annual meeting of the Ohio National Guard Association. The association wants the bill passed because members believe that enlistments in the guard will be increased by the creation of a constabulary which will relieve guardsmen of strike duty.

The association also endorsed Major A. B. Critchfield of Shreve, former adjutant general of Ohio, for the position of assistant secretary of war in the Harding cabinet, and recommended the appointment of Lieutenant Colonel Claude Stanley of Iowa for appointment to the position of chief of the militia bureau of the war department.

Colonel P. L. Mitchell, of Cincinnati, was elected president of the association.

Other officers are: Major A. W. Reynolds, Columbus, first vice president; Major Robert Reightler, Columbus, second vice president; Colonel John S. Shettler, Columbus, secretary; Colonel C. C. Chambers, Cleveland, treasurer; Lieutenant Charles Erwin, chaplain; and Colonel H. M. Bush, Columbus; Major Harry Brown, Columbus; Colonel Simon Ross, Cincinnati; Major Joseph J. Johnson, Akron, and Captain Jack Horner, Lima, members of the executive committee.

DIVORCE IS ASKED BY MRS. MINNIE DEARTH

Minnie Dearth filed suit for divorce in common pleas court Saturday, against William Dearth. Gross neglect of duty is charged. She claims she is compelled to work in a cigar factory to make a living for herself and their 3-year-old son, Frederick Dearth.

She asks that court grant her a reasonable sum of money to care for herself and their child, and that she be given custody of the boy.

LEWIS BURDEN SEEKS RELEASE OF DAUGHTER

Habeas corpus proceedings were filed in common pleas court Saturday by Lewis Burden, who claims that his daughter, Florence Burden, 17, is being illegally held by juvenile authorities on a charge of taking Gladys Bradford, 14, to Chicago, Ill., last September 12.

It is set forth in the petition that Miss Burden is detained as a delinquent.

A. W. TARVIN TO QUIT AS COUNCILMAN

Says Duties on Body Take Too Much Time From His Business Interests

WILL ACT SOON

Appointment of Woman to Fill Vacancy Probably Will be Urged

A. W. Tarvin, republican councilman-at-large, announced yesterday that he will hand in his resignation at the next meeting of council. He said his duties as councilman took too much of his time from his business.

Tarvin was appointed to council about a year ago to fill a vacancy occasioned by the resignation of W. L. Hopper, who left the city soon after his election.

ACTIVE DURING INCUMBENCY

Tarvin has served on many different committees of council and has been active in practically all movements by that body. He has been credited with being an anti-utilities man and with being a leader of the opposition in some of the fights against certain utility measures.

With the resignation of Tarvin, another old face will disappear from council. This will leave room for another new member, who will be appointed by council. At the last meeting Councilman Daniels resigned and was succeeded by A. O. Pugsley. Daniels had served only a short time, having succeeded Harry Altschul, who resigned after leaving the city for a protracted stay.

There have been numerous shifts in the council which took office a year ago. Several men who went in then and who have served since have quit.

MAY BOOM WOMAN

It is understood that there will be some action taken when Tarvin resigns to have a woman elected to fill the vacancy. There has been considerable feeling since the numerous resignations that the new voters should be honored by a place on this important body.

With republicans in control of council, it is probable that the person named to fill the vacancy will be of that political faith. The appointment of an independent voter, however, would not change the Republican majority.

U. S. FLEET MAY GO TO CHINA'S AID

Daniels Asked to Send Donated Grain to Starving.

WASHINGTON—To relieve the starving thousands in China, a mercy fleet of shipping board vessels, manned by volunteer crews of American naval reservists and carrying great stores of grain donated by American farmers and hauled to the Pacific coast by volunteer railroad employes, would soon set sail across the Pacific under plans outlined Saturday to Secretary Daniels by a committee headed by Carl Vrooman, former assistant secretary of agriculture.

Mr. Vrooman said the grain already had been donated by farmers in the west and that members of the railroad brotherhoods had offered to give their services without pay to haul it to the west coast.

The naval secretary was enthusiastic about the proposal and arranged for an immediate conference with shipping board officials to see about getting the vessels. He told the committee he felt certain there would be no difficulty in getting enough naval reserves to volunteer for the trip without pay or contingent on congress granting the pay later, the men to be provided with transportation, quarters and food by the navy.

The committee explained to Mr. Daniels the necessity for immediate action in view of the terrible conditions prevailing in the famine areas of China and the time necessary for the long voyage.

DENY NEW TRIAL

Judge Bailey Overrules Motion in Election Contest.

Judge Daniel Bailey, in common pleas court Saturday, denied the motion of Prosecuting Attorney Lippincott and Attorney John L. Cable for a new trial of the election contest suit of Walter W. Craig against A. J. Gray and John W. Thompson, in which a recount of ballots cast in 14 precincts of the county, made during the past week, showed that Craig was high man in the vote getting in November of 1920 and entitled to one of the four years terms as county commissioner, instead of Gray.

Attorneys for Gray and Thompson stated Saturday that the case will be taken to the court of appeals in an effort to have set aside the ruling of the common pleas court that the election law provides for legal inquiry into an election contest of this character, wherein all of the parties interested were elected to office.

HARDING'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS TO BE HEARD THRU WIRELESS PHONE

WASHINGTON — President Harding's inaugural address may be heard from Washington thru the wonders of wireless.

Mr. Harding is considering a plan to have the address recorded on talking machine records and then transmitted by radio telephone from the naval wireless station here on the night of March 4.

Thousands of wireless amateurs in the east and middle west, it is said, are equipped to receive it and it is being proposed that such amateurs organize parties for hearing the address. The naval air station now occasionally entertains the amateurs with wireless music.

Amateurs all over the east are already bombarding the president-elect with wireless calls to agree to the plan.

BISHOP FARRELLY DIES IN SOUTH

Head of Cleveland Diocese Falls Victim of Pneumonia.

STRICKEN WHILE ON VISIT

With Friends in Knoxville, Tenn., When Taken Ill.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Bishop John P. Farrelly, of the Catholic diocese of Cleveland, Ohio, died here late Saturday. He had been ill here with pneumonia since last Sunday.

* * *

NATIVE OF TENNESSEE

CLEVELAND—Bishop John P. Farrelly, who died in Knoxville, Tenn., Saturday afternoon, after a brief illness from pneumonia, was Cleveland's fourth bishop and took over the diocese on May 1, 1909. He was 65 years old.

Bishop Farrelly left Cleveland 12 days ago for a visit to relatives in Nashville, and then spent a few days with some friends in Knoxville. He was stricken Monday while in the latter city and grew steadily worse.

ORDAINED IN 1886

The churchman was born in Memphis, Tenn., March 15, 1856. His parents were wealthy and his father was a member of the Tennessee legislature. Early in life Bishop Farrelly felt the call to the church and his parents encouraged him to study for the ministry. After attending grammar schools in Tennessee, Kentucky and Arkansas, he entered Georgetown University at Washington and won scholarship honors. He then went to Notre Dame De La Paix at Namur, Belgium. Then he went to the American College in Rome and there received the degree of Doctorate in Sacred Theology. He was ordained priest in 1880, and then returned to the United States, going to Nashville, where he became an assistant to the pastor of the Nashville cathedral.

In 1883 he was appointed chancellor of the Nashville district and from 1894 to 1899 acted as spiritual director of the American College in Rome. When Bishop Hortsmann, of the Cleveland diocese died, in 1908, the pope named Farrelly for the vacancy, and was consecrated May 1, 1909.

BOND REFUSED IN AUTO KILLING

Columbus Motorist Held on First Degree Murder Charge.

COLUMBUS—What is believed to establish a precedent in criminal annals was the holding here Saturday of Jesse B. Haley on a first degree murder charge without bonds, as a result of an automobile accident in which Henry Seibert was killed last Sunday night as he waited at a street intersection for a street car.

According to police, Haley has confessed that he was driving the automobile which crashed into a group of people resulting in Seibert's death and the injury of others.

The first degree murder charge was filed against Haley by City Prosecutor Paul M. Herbert after an extensive investigation of the killing.

"In the trial of Haley," Herbert said, "it will be undisputed that he was operating the car without regard for human life and with utter disregard of any consequences. I believe the jury in the case should have the right to infer that after Seibert was hit, and while he was carried on the fender of the car, in plain view of the driver and in a perilous position, and from the fact that death resulted from his being struck, that Haley's continuing involved an intent to kill. Haley made no effort to stop and his car was going as fast or faster when it hit Seibert than when it hit the first person in the group."

DAMAGE SUIT IS ECHO OF AN AUTO ACCIDENT

In a suit filed in common pleas court Saturday, Louis Koch seeks to recover $200 damages from Joe Hartline and Mrs. F. E. Hartline, as the result of an automobile accident December 13, 1920.

Koch alleges that while driving at night on S. West-st he collided with Hartline's machine, which he says displayed no lights. It was parked in front of the former Lima Auto Co. garage, next to the Y. M. C. A., the petition says.

'BIG-HEARTED FRANK' EASY ON THE YEGG

Lima Becoming Dumping Ground for Offal of Underworld

CINCH TO WORK

Old-timer Tells Why Crime Is Increasing In this City

Lima is now the dumping ground for hundreds of thugs, petty thieves, porch climbers and pick-pockets, according to former members of the police department, who recognize the old-timers on the street.

"Big Hearted Frank" is the magnet which brings this offal of the demi-world back to Lima after having been barred for years by the order to take the next train out of town.

Detroit now being generally cleaned up during the period of non-employment and Toledo which is hard pressed to take care of the worthy indigent are shipping this class out of their bounds and many of them come here because "Big Hearted Frank" is considered their friend.

MAKE CHARGE ACCOUNTS

It is claimed by those in the know that repeated Mayor Burkhart, who is acclaimed "Big Hearted Frank," has interfered with the issuance of peddling licenses, and permitted the strangers to make charge accounts for street peddling. The "travellers" drop in for a night's lodging at the Rescue Home, then call at the city building and get a peddler's license which sells for $7.50 for a six months period, giving the vagrants legal residence for that period of time. They work a short time at selling on the streets, accumulate enough to make good on the license and get their permit to stay.

In the meantime they are studying conditions in the residence district and putting over a few trial stunts, until they can round up a big job.

It was because of this that National and State banks which had opened their doors to accommodate Saturday night savings depositors, were virtually warned by the inner circle of bankers' detective bureaus that there were too many old-timers in Lima, and that some Saturday night a raid would be pulled off worth while. Intimations of such a plan on one of the banks led to the night-closing agreement only last week.

MAYOR IS "BELIEVER"

There are ordinances on the city records which were made to handle all transients, but "Big Hearted Frank" has issued no ultimatum to his police to enforce those ordinances. Chief Roush is said to be working, as in the past, directly under the orders of the Mayor, who is commander-in-chief. Roush is keen enough to know what is going on, but the mayor is altruistic, and is a believer in mankind. His policy is that of the golden rule, ex-officers of the force say, but in the meantime the city is having it done unto it, first.

This is the way a former commissioned officer of the force in by-gone days, a man who "knew 'em all" and has swung a mace, has been in plain-clothes, and sat at the desk puts it.

The scene was the corner of High and Main, when a man came slinking up the north side of the street. As he reached the corner, the ex-officer glanced at him a moment, and said:

"Hello, Nic; you needn't run; I'm not on the force."

"Gee, you gave me a shake, Mr ——," came Nic's reply. "Are you handing it to me straight?"

"Sure, Nic, when did you come back?"

GOT OFF EASILY

"Oh, I've been here several days but they picked me up on suspicion last night, but not a bloomin' one of the bobs knew me and I got let up s'mornin'. You couldn't have done that in the old days."

"Nic" was an old-timer known far and wide; Jack Beall would call him "Nic" as would Bert Campbell, if alive; or Charlie Price or any of the old newspaper crowd. A dozen former patrolmen would recognize him as did our informant. Yet he was living at the Rescue Home, had been looked over by the present police, and allowed to go along to study and wait his chance at a "real haul."

DANIELS AND MEREDITH TO RETAIN "CABINET SEATS" PERMANENTLY

WASHINGTON—Secretaries Daniels and Meredith are to retain their "cabinet seats" permanently. They arranged today to purchase the chairs which they have occupied each Tuesday in the cabinet room at the White House and plan to move them to their homes after March 4, as souvenirs of their service under President Wilson.

Formerly the chairs were sold for $65, but these are days of higher prices and the two cabinet officers are understood to have paid more than $100 each for the chairs.

Secretary Baker has contented himself with removing the brass name plate from the back of his cabinet chair. He paid $4.50 for the plate.

ROUGH STUFF THREATENED BY SERGEANT

By WILLIAM L. BARLOW

Declaring that he would "throw me out of police headquarters and see that I stayed out if I quoted him in The Lima News", was the sudden outburst of Sergt. Frank Eberle when I appeared at the station Saturday afternoon to ask for information on a robbery.

"You're just trying to get me in a jam, and I warn you right now that if you get me mixed up, something is going to happen.

"I told you Friday that all the news I would give you was off the arrest book. I'm under orders from the——"

Then he stopped, catching himself before telling from whom he got his orders to conceal news.

"Go on, tell me who gave you the orders," I insisted.

"Well, there's just this much to it," Eberle said, "you will have to see the chief."

Earlier in the day Sergeant Eberle and Sergeant Goebel took occasion to make threats against me and others at The News. They were not specific.

7 OHIO CHILDREN DIE IN FLAMES

This Number is Fire Toll for Last 3 Weeks.

LEFT ALONE IN THEIR HOMES

State Marshal Seeks Law to Safeguard Youths.

COLUMBUS—Seven children, ranging in age from eighteen months to three years, were burned to death in Ohio in the last three weeks, while alone at home, records of State Fire Marshal Dykeman Saturday showed.

Added impetus to Marshal Dykeman's announcement this week that he would seek passage of a law making it a felony to leave children alone without proper safeguards, will be given by the tragedies, it is believed.

TRAGEDIES RECORDED

Five of the children met their deaths since January 26; two were burned to death January 20. The fire marshal's records shows these tragedies:

On January 20, Raymond Jackson, aged three years, and Wayman Jackson, 18 months old, were burned to death, while alone at home at Akron. An oil stove was the cause.

January 26, Kenneth Baker, aged two years, was left alone, according to the marshal, and burned to death, when his nightgown caught fire from an overheated slack burner.

On January 29, Ralph Weingardner, aged two years, of near Akron, upset a lamp, while alone in the house, and crawled under a bed burning to death.

28 PERSONS PERISH

On January 30, Joseph Totes, three years of age, Youngstown, set fire to a chicken coop, while alone, and burned to death.

Feb. 7, Irene, aged four, and Julia, aged two, Goodwin, died in each other's arms, when their mother left them alone, in what officials say was a locked room.

Twenty-eight persons have perished in Ohio by fire in the last three weeks, and 14 others were injured, the records show. Six of the dead were Columbus residents, and another died here.

"The figures ought to make everyone think seriously about allowing carelessness to take such a frightful toll of human lives," Mr. Dykeman declared. "The records show more than one death a day from fire, ninety per cent of which are due to carelessness."

TWO QUIT CABINET

Several Important Changes Made in British Cabinet.

LONDON—Viscount Milner, minister of colonies, and Walter Hume Long, first lord of the admiralty, have retired from the Lloyd-George cabinet, causing several important ministerial changes, it was announced here Saturday evening.

After accepting the resignations of Milner and Long, King George appointed Winston Churchill to the portfolio vacated by the former and Lord Lee of Fareham to head the admiralty.

Succeeding Churchill, Sir Worthington Evans was made minister of war and air. The vacancy at the head of the agriculture ministry created by the shift of Lord Lee was filled by Sir Arthur Griffith-Boscowen, former under-secretary.

Viscount Milner is known to have been disappointed at the failure of the government to act on his recommendation of a liberal home rule system for Egypt.

Long's resignation may be explained by opposition to the present British policy of eliminating capital ships from the naval building program.

ROUSH BARS NEWS; MORE CRIME HERE

Arrest Book, Only, Open—Threats are Made by Officers

PROWLER IS BUSY

Burglary Reported—Council May Probe Police Laxity

Censorship of all police news, threats against individuals connected with The Lima News by police officers and continued crime in the city were outstanding features of Saturday in the crime wave which is sweeping this city.

Chief of Police O. J. Roush announced yesterday afternoon that only the arrest book would be open to representatives of this newspaper henceforth, thus putting a ban on all news thru his department concerning the numerous robberies and depradations committed here nightly as the arrest book rarely contains an entry.

Altho no news of crime in the city which the department has failed to check comes from police headquarters, accounts of it poured in from the public yesterday and last night.

CRIMES REPORTED

Following are cases of crime in the city not previously published and which have been suppressed by police because no arrests have been made:

R. P. Conkling's confectionery, 900 S. Pine-st, burglarized.

Attempt to rob second floor of Y. M. C. A.

Attempt to enter home of John H. Height, 211 N. Franklin-st.

Attempt to enter home of Paul Stephenson, 1300 W. North-st.

Attempt to enter home of Findlay Holmes, 1307 W. North-st.

Theft of tire, rim and inner tube from Dr. W. W. Beauchamp's machine while standing on Main-st.

The prowler who visited Stephenson's home last Monday night attempted three times to enter the house, but was driven away by Stephenson. He had a loaded revolver and threatened to shoot thru the door.

The prowler was watched by Stephenson, who saw him turn in at the Holmes home and sneak up on a rear porch. He did not gain an entrance. Holmes said yesterday members of his family did not hear him.

PROWLER FRIGHTENED

The prowler was watched by Stephgain an entrance to the Height home. He was frightened away the first time and upon his return Height dashed from the front door in time to see a man running away.

The Conkling confectionery was robbed of $1 in pennies, $2.50 in Canadian coins, a ring valued at $5 and it is believed some candy, cigars and cigarets.

Entrance was gained by removing a rear window. The panel of a door between the confectionery and store room was broken. It is believed the thieves were frightened away before they had completed their work as a drawer containing a small amount of money was not touched.

When leaving the place the robbers opened a side door, which was locked on the inside, and carried the key away with them, leaving the door standing open.

An attempt was made by a robber to loot the Y. M. C. A. second floor Friday night by using a ladder to climb to the roof above the swimming pool. Officials at the "Y" said none of the occupants had reported anything missing from their rooms.

The theft of the tire from Dr. Beauchamp, Opera House block, was perpetrated during the day on the main thorofare of the city.

MANY OTHER DEPRADATIONS

The above instances were reported yesterday. Scores of others have been reported from various parts of the city, particularly the West End, during the last few days. Many of these have been serious, houses being entered by thugs while women were alone, robberies of importance and attacks on women and girls on the streets.

So far the police have made no arrests. Nothing has been done to clear up the situation.

Members of city council last night hinted that a probe of the police department will be started soon if city officials directly responsible to the public fail to act. They said the matter is a disgrace to the city and one not to be tolerated longer.

Under-officers at police headquarters saw fit yesterday to make threats against the police reporter for this newspaper and against others connected with the staff. They were not specific in their language, except in one instance to say that the reporter would be thrown from headquarters if he did certain things.

The censorship imposed by the chief will deprive the public of news of police happenings. The police department is maintained by the taxpayers for their protection, altho they will not be able to learn what it is doing, if anything, to safeguard the public.

U. S. SALARIES CUT

Provisions for Employes' Bonus Stricken Out by Senate.

WASHINGTON — Government employes all over the country face salary reductions of from $120 to $240 a year, if action taken by the senate Saturday is allowed to stand

On a point of order, Curtis of Kansas, the senate struck out the entire bonus provision of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, which provides the pay of all government employes.

The bonus amounts to $120 a year, for some employes and $240 for others. It went out because some senators tried to add navy yard employes, class of workers, who in the opinion of many senators, are paid well enough.

In an effort to get the bonus back for clerks and other workers who are admittedly under-paid, Senator Lodge gave notice that he would move next week to suspend the rules to permit inclusion of the bonus provision in the bill.

Curtis, in a vigorous statement, told the senate that the bonus plan was all wrong. It was devised during the war as a temporary means of raising salaries to keep pace with the cost of living.

"The first year the bonus was $120, the next time $240 and then we were asked to double that," said Curtis "What congress should do instead of paying bonus is to write into the law salaries large enough to meet the employes' needs I am going to fight every bonus proposition from now on."

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL IN HOLLENBACHER CASE TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT

Motion for a new trial in the case of Carl Hollenbacher, found recently by a jury to be not insane, was heard Saturday by Judge Daniel Bailey of Ottawa, sitting in the local court, and was taken under advisement.

Judge S. A Armstrong, attorney for Hollenbacher, presented to the court arguments in support of the motion.

ADDED PLANS FOR 1921 FAIR

Race Stakes Guaranteed — Spelling Match to Be Held.

Further plans for the 1921 Allen-co Fair were perfected at a meeting of the fair board Saturday afternoon The fair this year promises to be much bigger and better than the last and last year's event was the best in the history of the organization

The constitution was revised, at the meeting, so that women may vote and hold office as directors in the future. G Dale Cremean was appointed on a committee with one man from the Merchants' association and one from the Chamber of Commerce to arrange for the guarantee of a $2000 race stake.

The Deisel-Wemmer Co has guaranteed the $1000 San Felice and ElVerso stake and the Elks lodge assumes a $1,000 stake Three other $1,000 stakes will be guaranteed in the near future

The Fair Board appropriated $125 for prizes for a spelling contest to be staged for the Allen-co students The First National Bank has added a $25 saving account to the winner in each district The county school board has added second prizes of $3 and third prize of $2 to all the fair boards' first prizes in the spelling contest

Tuesday, August 23rd, will be children's day at the fair. On this day all school children will be admitted free.

The Allen-co fair board is a member of the Northwestern Ohio Short Ship Race Circuit, of which M. L. Mayu, of Lima, is president. This circuit comprises Springfield, Toledo, Findlay, Van Wert, Bowling Green, Kenton, Bellefontaine and Lima

At the meeting Saturday afternoon the auditor's report of last year's fair was read and accepted. The majority of privileges have already been sold for the fair.

SEARCH GOES ON

Mystery of Missing Teresa Pedro Still Unsolved

CELINA — (Special) — Persistently, relentlessly, doggedly, the search instituted by Sheriff George Betz and Deputy Walter Leonard of Mercer-co for missing Teresa Pedro, 16 year old Rockford girl, goes on.

It has now been four weeks since the girl disappeared and her sweetheart, Floyd Humerickhouse, charged with rape with consent, is at liberty under bond

The suicide theory has been abandoned The girl's known physical condition caused a thore search of hospitals, but threw no light on the mystery

All out of the way places in Mercer-co have been searched, in hope of finding the girl and the rivers and other streams in the vicinity of Rockford have been dragged Humerickhouse maintains that he knows nothing about the girl's whereabouts

Recent photographs of the girl are being sent broadcast to all police officials

FIFTEEN INITIATED BY COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS

Fifteen candidates were initiated into the Lima Council No 17, United Commercial Travelers, Saturday night. A degree team from Springfield was present to put on the initiation.

The following state officers were present: Grand counsellor, Oscar Fisher, Columbus; grand junior counsellor, Frank Sidnell, Norwalk, grand secretary Robert Somerville Dayton; grand treasurer, Charles M Owen, Dayton; grand sentinel, E W. Kite, Urbana; past grand counsellor, Walter Fishack, Toledo

Previous to the initiation meeting, a dinner was served by the Ladies' U. C. T. club.

MEN AND MATTERS

Principal J. T. Cotner, Central High school, was called to Columbus Friday by the State Commissioner of Education, to assist in working out a course of study for commercial teachers to be used at Ohio State University. This will be a new course, as at present there are no commercial teachers' college courses

BILLS RUSHED BY OHIO ASSEMBLY

Work of Session Expected to be Completed in March.

SOLONS FACE BUSY WEEK

Many Important Measures Soon to be Voted on.

COLUMBUS--Next week should put the 84th general assembly in good shape, so far as completing its program is concerned.

In fact, the legislature is already beginning to see daylight ahead and it is expected that the coming week will see several important taxation measures thru the house. The committee on state reorganization is also whipping its program into shape for early introduction.

By March 1 leaders figure, most of the small stuff will be out of the way and then they plan to recess for two or three weeks, while waiting on the house finance committee, which is rushing work on the big appropriation bills and expects to finish about March 20.

On reconvening they will have a hurry up session of two or three weeks and then final adjournment

BILLS UP THIS WEEK

Several important measures will come up before both branches of the legislature during the coming week. Chief among these is a bill introduced in the house this week by Representative Silver of Preble-co. The introduction of the Silver bill would indicate that city and rural legislators, who have opposed one another vigorously for years on tax matters, have at least agreed on a compromise that will have a chance for adoption when submitted to the voters of the state next November.

Representative Silver's bill was introduced in the form of a constitutional amendment and provides that real estate shall never be taxed more than one and one-half per cent on the dollar of valuation without a vote of the people who are to be taxed.

This alone wouldn't produce enough revenue for the various taxing districts so it is also provided that intangible property may be classified and levies fixed for each class that will produce the greatest amount of revenue; and furthermore that mortgages shall not be taxed but shall pay a small fee. A state income tax law is also in view as a revenue producer.

BOND MEASURE

The Griswold bill, which prohibits the issuing of bonds for current operating expenses, limits the length of bonds to the probable life of the public improvement for which they issued and fixes hard and fast bonded debt limitations for political sub-divisions, will in all probability be passed in the house next Wednesday.

While the main object of the Griswold bill is to prevent Ohio cities from repeating their past financial follies, the Taft bill, also before the house next Wednesday, permits these same cities to smash the Smith tax limit law for a period of three years, by a majority vote of the people, in order to carry on until some permanent tax relief is given.

POLICE TAKE FOUR AS VIOLATORS

Local Men Charged with Violating Liquor Law.

Four men were arrested late Saturday night by Officers Blair, Landfair and Watkins as the result of their raids for alleged local booze traffic.

Lee Clements, 31, of 715 W. Eureka-st, is being held in city prison charged with illegally transporting liquor. James F. Fenstemaker, 24, is held on the same charge He resides with Clements, according to his declaration to police.

Ray Kinsey, 28, of the Liberty Hotel, was arrested when his Lark Cafe, corner of Wayne and Central-sts, was raided He is charged with illegally selling and having intoxicating liquor in his possession. He was released under bond of $1,000.

C. E Dearth was arrested in his place of business at 420 S Main-st, on the same charge

DEMAND RIGHT TO EARN LIVING

Thousands of Jobless Put Matter Up to Chicago.

PROBLEM AIRED AT MEETING

Practice of "Beefsteak Christianity" Urged by Speakers.

CHICAGO—Two thousand jobless, homeless and foodless men Saturday night demanded the right to earn a living.

The city of Chicago on the verge of establishing bread lines and flop houses, called a meeting in East End Hall, to talk over the unemployment situation with those it most concerned —the jobless.

Five thousand men—not indigents, but industrious workmen—are penniless and have been thrown on society. There are 75,000 others who are jobless, but still have resources to last a few weeks; 80,000 others are working, but a few days a week.

These are the figures of Dr. Ben Reitman, city lodging inspector, and Dr. John P. Brushingham, city morals commissioner, who called the meeting.

PLEA OF JOBLESS

The men, pinched penniless in the wedge of industrial readjustment now going on, recounted experience after experience of futile job hunting. But they did it calmly. They said in effect that the world did not owe them a living; but they believed the world owed them a chance to earn a livelihood.

"This rich and powerful nation has helped the starving of many countries," said Dr. Reitman. "Now is the chance to begin at home. The city council committee is working night and day to create employment. This great social problem must be solved."

Dr. Reitman and many of the men openly charged that welfare organizations have fallen down on the job of relieving the suffering. Representatives of these organizations explained their limited facilities and offered to co-operate under Dr. Reitman's leadership to alleviate conditions.

CHURCH AID ASKED

Dr. Brushingham said the doctrines of Lenine and Trotsky have their inception when masses of men are thrown out of work.

"The churches of this city should practice beefsteak christianity," said Rev. Johnson Meyers, pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist church. "Let them throw open the churches for the homeless and establish soup kitchens."

Rev. Meyers practices what he preaches, for several weeks he has been feeding men before they start out on their daily job-hunting.

"Ma" Greenstein who waxed fairly independent in the old days by serving working men with beer in her State-st saloon, but who now is serving free meals to the unemployed, urged "her boys" not to get discouraged.

"You'll not starve as long as I have a cent," said "Ma".

A canvass of the by-ways Saturday night shows that beds in every "flop house" were filled and men were sleeping on floors—glad to get the space.

DR. SUTTER TO OPEN COUNTY HEALTH CLINIC AT MEMORIAL HALL

Newly equipped, the health clinic to be opened this week in the basement of the Memorial Hall under the direction of Dr. J. J. Sutter, will have for its purpose not only the detection and prevention of disease, but also the promotion of better health conditions in the county.

When funds become available, health centers will be established in accessible parts of the county.

Five aims in particular will feature the clinic. They are· Tuberculosis survey, a monthly tuberculosis clinic, baby clinic, weekly school children, and one day a month for non-classified cases

No treatment will be given The patient will be referred to a physician.

Instructions in personal hygiene, tuberculosis and other diseases, will be given thru the medium of literature, posters, lectures and newspaper publicity.

PROGRAM FOR Y. M. C. A. ACTIVITIES FOR WEEK

The following is the program of Y. M. C. A. activities during the coming week. On Monday evening the male chorus which was recently organized, will rehearse under the directorship of S. C. Biddle. The gym men's Bible class will also meet Monday at 6:30 p. m.

On Tuesday evening the following teams of the industrial basketball league will play: East Iron vs. Merchants; Loco vs. L. E. & W.; Solar vs. Garford.

In the industrial Y. M. C. A. bowling league match games will be played between the Loco vs. Willard, on Monday; Solar vs. Garford on Wednesday and Lima Telephone vs. White Mountain Creamery on Friday.

The state convention of the Y. M. C. A. will meet this week at Mansfield beginning Friday evening and closing Sunday evening. Seventeen delegates will attend from Lima.

SUIT FOR MONEY.

The When Stores Co. filed suit Saturday in common pleas court to recover money alleged to be owing their firm by J. F. Marks, who bought a suit of clothes for a 12-year-old boy there for $9. It is alleged the defendant paid only $3 on the suit.

PAINTINGS TO BE SHOWN HERE

Famous Critic to Bring Art Exhibit to Lima.

AMERICAN ART IS THE BEST

Shown at C. C. Auditorium Week of Feb. 21.

Thru the agency of the Art Study club of Lima, one of the most valuable and interesting exhibits of Lima ever shown in this country will be brought to this city to be shown at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium for a week, beginning February 21.

William Sawitzky, art critic of international fame, associated with the Milch Galleries of New York, will be in charge of the exhibit. Sawitzky is doing pioneer work at the present time, blazing the trail for American art in preference to European. In fact, he is doing an Americanization work of a different character, teaching American people the real worth and greatness of American art

The exhibit to be brought here is composed of oil paintings, water colors, pastels and small bronzes, all the work of modern American artists The exhibit is all of the conservative type and none of the canvases of the extreme radical young painters are included.

AMERICAN STANDARD

"The mission of Sawitzky," Mrs. E A Williams, president of the Art Study club, said, "is to awaken American people to the high standard of American art. Art is a serious proposition Most people in America think different It is the confession of a struggling soul. It is the world appearing thru the eyes of temperament. American art shows the initiative of the American people. It is full of the sunshine and joy of life In America there are hundreds of homes filled with wonderful furniture, everything of the finest and then upon the walls, worthless pictures

"America has been made the dumping ground for worthless art from Europe for a long time and now it is time to call a halt. American art is just as good as European."

WORK OF MASTERS

The collection to be shown here by Sawitzky includes such masters as Wyant, Innes, Blakelock, Brush, Tryon, Dewing, Francis Murphy, Carl Metchers, Hassam, Dougherty, Metcalf, Bruce Crane and Frederick Ballard Williams. Many of the works are priceless. The pictures to be shown here range in value from $500 to $1,000.

This is the first opportunity that Lima people have had of seeing an exhibition of strictly American art. Included in the collection is Childe Hassam's "Marechal Niel Rose" Many people cannot understand this painting, but when its beauty becomes apparent the visitor is fascinated, it is stated. This picture was painted in 1895, but was released only recently, as the artist would allow no one to see it outside of his studio. This picture is above value and is regarded as one of the finest in the entire collection. Other pictures of note are "The Birds of Spring," "The New Moon" and "Flickering Shadows," all by Metcalf; "Opening in the Woods," by Wyant; "Girl Knitting," by Helen Turner, and "The Lake," by Ralph Arthur Blakestock.

Mrs. Williams, president of Lima Art Study club, with Mrs C. E Schell, the secretary and Mrs. Will Daniels, the treasurer, as well as the seventeen other members of the club, are very enthusiastic about the forthcoming art exhibit here. The club extends an invitation to everyone in the city to see the wonderful collection of pictures the week of February 21, at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

MISSING GIRL FOUND IN DETROIT HOSPITAL

DETROIT—Mary Caldwell, missing Detroit typist, for whom a nation-wide search has been made, is reported safe in a Detroit hospital, the Detroit Daily Times said in a copyrighted story Saturday.

The girl, formerly of Atlanta, Ga., has been missing from her home since December 15. No trace of her had been found other than a note found on the street near where she worked, the day after she disappeared.

The note, supposedly written by her, said "I am being kidnaped and taken away in a motor boat."

According to the Times story, the girl is reported located in a private hospital and her identity definitely established by a nurse who is caring for her.

MEMBERS FAIR BOARD MEET

Former Residents of Delphos Die In Other Cities

DELPHOS—(Special)—A meeting of the board of the Glamorgan Tire & Rubber Corp. of this city, has been called for Febr ary, 18, at the home office here. The future of the company will probably be decided at this meeting. It is thought that very little will be saved for the stockholders. Tahe l d consists of the following: F. H. King, president; John A. Sherger, Dr. G. G. McCoy, Henry Gemke, Delphos and Charles Perkins, Woodlawn, Pa.; W. O. McCormick, Byesville O.; J. A. Davis, Oak Hill.

At a meeting of the members of the fair association with the Community Club at the rooms of the latter, Friday afternoon, eight committees were appointed as follows: Finance, amusement concessions, bands, advertising, music, decorations, tents and exhibits. The attendance at this meeting was much greater than that held Thursday afternoon.

John W. East, 51, who was formerly a resident near this city, died at Los Angeles, Calif. He was born in Middlepoint, and leaves a wife and three children.

Martin Mooran, a former resident of this city, died in Toledo, Thursday, after a long illness from tuberculosis, according to information received here by his daughter, Mrs. Davivd Miller. He leaves a wife and seven children, six living here. Moorman was formerly a resident of this city.

The interclass basketball tournament at Delphos high school began Friday afternoon, when the Seniors met the Juniors and the Sophmores the Freshmen.

TIFFIN MOVIES OPEN SUNDAYS; OWNERS HELD

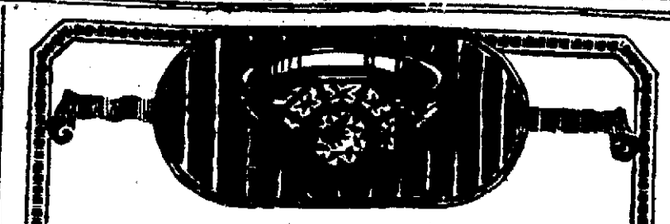

TIFFIN — Warrants were issued in probate court here against the owners and managers of three Tiffin miving picture theatres on information filed by Prosecuting Attorney John L. TAXATION IS BIG PROBLEM

Lawmakers Have Fine Opportunity to Make Good

DAVIS FOR U. S. SENATOR

Legislature Is Going Limit on "Emergency Acts"

ism and against the notion that the state may still be run on "the plans of 1853 and 1870". It was the first symptoms of progressive sentiment at work in the branches and as such it startled some of the members. Nevertheless, more such truths will be heard as time rolls on.

* * *

Never have men in the history of General Assemblies done as much of what the colored man called "sweating", not perspiring, as has been done by those who promised both ways on the state constabulary bill, for and against it. The notes that were given to both sides and then forgotten, are falling due. The decision must be made and while it is easy for the hardshells, there are others who worry thru the long night and thru the days. There may be many cases of pronounced illness or other forms of debility when the vote comes on. The canvass for the bill has been shrewdly conducted and unless the governor takes it upon himself to interfere, passage is very likely in the House of Representatives. Governor Davis is pledged against the bill and the desire not to have to pay with his veto pen may bring action. Let us wait, like patient children, and see.

* * *

There is not likely to be much labor legislation at the present session of the Ohio general assembly, sad as may be the intelligence to the sons of toil. Every time that labor passes, too many feet are out to give it a kick. This has shown up in the constabulary row, the source of much strength of the bill being actually its supposed hostility to labor. This is the reason why the labor men are taking a casual interest in it but waiting to see if they must invoke the referendum. For, after all, no genius has yet believed that the creation of a force of "Cossacks" is yet an 'emergency", tho a sick county auditor, desire to get jobs and twelve other things may be. The fellow who put in the bill was simply too modest.

* * *

If you are a criminal and contemplate transportation to the scene of your felony, let advice be given. Under the terms of a bill by Representative Edwards of Cuyahoga-co, do not use an automobile. For the solon has decreed that the punishment is to be 25 years in the Ohio "pen" for going to or from the scene of a crime in a motor car, including a Ford. One may fancy a stern court imposing sentences something like this: For a member of the Ohio general assembly accepting a bribe, one to three years, but for riding out with the briber in a motor car to receive the money, 25 years; upon a citizen of African extraction for stealing chickens, one to ten years, but for taking the car of his boss to go, 25 years. And so the list might be prolonged. Again, we say, if contemplating crime, walk, ride behind an old nag, go on a street car, roller skate to the scene. But avoid a motor car.

* * *

Faith in the Bible increased enormously this week after the Goliath of a four-year term for all county officers was slain by the David of the senate in the person of Hon. James A. Reynolds, of Cuyahoga, the minority. There was a time when all things were set for the passage of the bill, which was due to slip its way noiselessly along. Then the David of this story began to put pebbles in his sling and fire them and each one took effect. The notion that it was "theft" to try to win an election for these officers by legislative fiat spread. Then Reynolds made the women interested and finally, almost before he knew it, the fight was won. There is still a question about county surveyors, but the proposition is a minor one. If they can get away with it in the face of the jealousy of the remainder of the gang, they are welcome to do so, far as James is concerned.

* * *

As a friend of the idea of reforestation, "Uncle John" Chester, of Paulding, leader of the Corn Stalk Brigade, had to slip something into a canal resolution secretly. The plans for economy are so many that nothing can be spared for this department of state activity and while friendship for the idea is professed, there seems to be nothing to indicate that there will be anything done on plans to make a real start in replanting our southern Ohio hills with trees, nor yet in protecting those that are already there. The canal resolution calls for ascertaining facts with reference to property damage and Chester had a line that the committee named should also cast an eye over the forest situation. This looks like little will be done but make a prefunctory report, which isn't planting trees.

* * *

Enforcement of the provisions of the anti-lobby act of 1913 has been virtually a thing of the past. By consistent and persistent gnawing, the law has been eaten up by legislative worms like a log in an old barn. There are fewer legislative agents registered than usual this year, altho the normal crowd is about the halls where laws are made. There is no desire to enforce the law, which for some reason no one has attempted to repeal. In the committee sessions it is the usual course for the committee chairman to let any speaker discuss a pending bill, whether he is talking for hire or not. After he has finished, a formal invitation is sent him. The practice represents nothing short of pure perversion of the law. The invitation thing was designed to give committees an opportunity to call for information from any men without compelling such persons to go before the Secretary of State and pay a fee, but the lawmakers have twisted it into a blanket means of covering all departures from the letter and spirit of the law. Work as legislative agent can be made perfectly legitimate but hardly when attempt is made to bring the law into contempt.

* * *

Speaking of turning laws around and heading them east when they were traveling west, let us recall the Robinson and Miller acts on public utilities, passed one year ago. One required that notice be given before rates were raised and the other that before service might be withdrawn from any community the consent of the Public Utilities commission must be obtained. As to the Miller act, the withdrawal law, the utilities said: "Fine!" And why so? The fact is that the statute has been swung as a club over the heads of municipalities. If councils do not come thru promptly and give the companies what they want, they threaten to give up service, filing a petition with the commission in Columbus. Then when the people are threatened with loss of water, power, light or natural gas service, they speedily come to time. When a utility wants to increase rates the patrons find that mere delay of 30 days amounts to little and after a year of operation of the new laws, folks cannot see a great deal of difference.

* * *

When Senator Frank K. Norwood, of Canton put in a bill to raise the fine for drunkenness from a flat five-case note to the sliding scale basis, $5 to $100, the last item in the overhead of intoxicating had been raised. The high cost of living is a great deep pit as compared to the possibilities of the high cost of inebriety. Of course, our readers will say that the prevailing price of bootleg liquor is $18 a quart and if the writer is correctly informed, that is true. "Squirrel" whiskey, the kind that makes 'em climb trees, or wish to, which is all the same, comes at less. One may then rashly conclude that is a total of $118 as the possible cost of a period of unconsciousness that might have been purchased for fifty cents before the world war, or $5.50 with the police court attachment. But all the items have not been considered. If of home manufacture ,the cost may be $500 fine to the state, a fine of $1,000 and a prison term under the federal law, $1,000 Aiken tax, $1,000 federal tax and a possible $100 fine under the proposed new Norwood act, a total of $3,600 and a period in jail. Some inflation! Eh, what?

* * *

In all candor it cannot be said that the lawyers, attorneys, barristers, advocates, counsellors and sargents of law have grown more modest as time has rolled on. For instance, there is under consideration a bill by Representative Matthews of Montgomery-co which proposes to take a portion of the bail forfeitures, as well as the fines in common pleas courts, for the upkeep of law libraries. The fines have been insufficient in recent years to keep the libraries in the style in which the beneficiaries think they should be conducted and this new tack is to be tried. The original statute has never been approved as to constitutionality and when some one swiped the funds in one county a few years ago it was found virtually impossible to prosecute because the moneys were not really public moneys after they had been given away.

* * *

Undaunted by the public clamor and outcry raised over the appearance of a regular dozen "emergencies" bills in the general assembly, there came last week Representative Edward H. Boylan, of Akron, Summit-co, to make it a baker's dozen or thirteen. His necessity clause recites that in his home county they are behind with the docket. In upwards of 70 counties, the judges are sitting on their woolsacks, with nothing to do, looking up to the ceiling and wondering when lunch time will come, if ever. Chief Justice Marshall might end this particular emergency any time, by gathering up a truck load of idle judges and dumping them in front of the court house, with instructions to go in, get busy and give all and several a chance to state their grievances, with a promise of justice.

* * *

What's this news told us last Lord's Day by "Buddie" Gableman, the old Waverly and Portsmouth boy who is now in Washington for the Enquirer? "Gabe" has it that Hon. Harry L. Davis is to run for United States senator in 1922, to succeed Hon. Atlee Pomerene. Every time that Congressmen Nicholas Longworth, Simeon D. Fess of Yellow Springs, who was a Democrat in the dear dead long ago; B. Franklin Murphy, of Steubenville and Theodore E. Burton think about that proposition a lump comes into their respective throats and their eyes shoot blood rays.

Governor Davis for senator! And he has never had a day's Washington experience! Davis for senator; And he refuses to run for re-election! The dreams of Davis look good but this affiant avers it to be his best belief, if not information, that nothing is to come of that senatorial stuff. Thru the reorganization plans, Davis doubtless will have a big machine available, but it will not be worth a thing as an instrument for him to use except to run for re-election. The kind of men that the Hon. Harry will appoint will look after themselves first to see that the right sort of men is nominated for governor, if Davis isn't. Should he be compelled to go back to that dear old Cleveland, the gang would have no alibi for itself.

* * *

The biggest thing tho is that no man can leave the governor's office to run for something higher unless he has made good in this office. And that cannot be done in two years. Making the first election is one thing; making a second is another. Because he was not re-elected for one thing and for various other reasons that need not be recited here, Francis Bartlett Willis will never be recognized as anything else than a failure as governor. Two defeats for a second term convinced him that the people of Ohio never thought much of his first term. In the case of Davis refusing to run, the party would suffer from the acts of his administration which it would have to defend while he had run away from the scene of battle. In time this will soak into the situation and cause many of the party fathers to take the Hon. Harry by the lobe of the ear and point him toward his duty and the firing line. No cowardly running away, they will say. Then later, if need be, the voters will give his auricular organ the same sort of twist if he persists in his desire to escape the fact that he is expected to stand for re-election, come what may.

* * *

Even if he runs for renomination as governor, Davis may have opposition. He has been trying to remove it by playing the policy of the Anti-Saloon league, but if he succeeds in keeping the liberal element it will only be thru such protection of the liberal element in his prohibition department as will strain the state government to the breaking point. It is tight rope walking to be sure. The fellows who are in danger of throwing the hooks into him are the William E. Halley-Harry M. Daugherty guys. They have been doing the heavy talking, all right, and they are madder than seventeen wet hens. The manner in which this crowd organized the senate and house of representatives made them feel chesty and when Davis never interposed a single objection to their doings they strutted about like cocks of the walk. Then the fun began. The Hon. Davis began to make his appointments and with each announcement the faces of the aforesaid crew grew longer and longer. Finally they turned to Hon. Harley C[illegible] they were on to his devilment announced their intention [illegible] on that good and meek [illegible] ing Davis to run for [illegible] keep him busy, have some [illegible] for governor against Sn[illegible] upon the national admi[illegible] dominate the situation. Seen In the First Glimpse of Spring Apparel Interesting Modes—Equally Interesting Prices

REGARDLESS of chic modes there is a magic something which tinges all the new things to wear, giving them a rosy interesting hue. That something is price. One may go about the ever delightful, engrossing task of a Spring outfit unhampered by the thought of high prices and their accompanying train of inhibited desires for what is pretty and what is needed.

What You Will See When You Come to the Store

FASHION has outdone herself for the return of Spring. Frocks, Suits and Wraps echo the paeon of joy that marks the coming of the gayest season of the year. Clever French heads and clever heads wherever smart apparel is created have evolved fascinating and charming modes, some not without a very practical turn, of course, for the delectation of fair women. Inspection discloses a very choice collection of the earliest models for women who desire the new while the bloom is yet upon it.

We especially invite your inspection of the new modes in Milgrim Suits and frocks featured exclusively by Feldman's in this city. Each model is an original Milgrim creation and reflects the highest technique of the dressmaker's art.

If One Thinks of Frocks—

—Then there are smart cloth models, ornate with the new cut work, embroidered, appliqued with leather or contrasting materials. Moroccoan an dCanton crepes form many a luscious Frock for diversified uses. Afternoon gowns are quaint or dashing in their use of vivid color and eccentric style.

(Second Floor)

To Be Sure, There Must Be a Suit

No woman will overlook one. They are as inevitable as Spring itself. This year, because there are very youthful models or coolie jackets or semi-fashioned styles, you will see the necessity of having a smart Suit early in the season. Piquitine is one of the much-used new fabrics. Ask to see it.

NEW ELDORADO IS BOOMING

Wapakonetans Visit Oil Center of Arkansas

JAMES YOUNG DEATH VICTIM

Two Mishaps on the Western Ohio—Wapak News

WAPAKONETA — (Special) — J. William Lear and Leonard Heinisch have returned from a two weeks sojourn in Arkansas, where they investigated the recent oil boom in Eldorado, county seat of Union-co, where land is at an immense premium and "wildcatting" is the order of the day.

The population of this town increased from 7,000 to 15,000 in five weeks and thousands more are attempting to pile in. The space between curbs and sidewalks is occupied by tents and shacks. Rooms cost from $150 to $200 per month. Living costs are sky high. Only several huge wells have been drilled thus far, but derricks dot the landscape, the returned Wapakonetans report.

Five weeks ago a test well proved to be a gigantic gusher. Further development proved the underground regions thereabouts is a veritable lake of oil. Now Eldorado is enjoying prosperity.

Due to mild weather and resultant softening of ground city engineer has given directions to farmers and others to detour in order to evade Wood and North-sts. under improvement. It is advised that travelers to and from Lima take the Uniopolis-St. Johns and Middle pikes, which are in fair condition.

James Young, well known citizen and long-time resident here, died Friday night, following an attack of paralysis a week ago. Deceased was about 68 years of age.

Floyd Kirkendall, conductor on Western Ohio car No. 11, was badly injured here Friday when he slipped and fell from the platform of his car at the corner of Blackhoof and Mechanic-sts, striking his head and causing concussion of the brain. He was removed to his home in Findlay. It is believed he will recover.

Baseball fans here will hold a big meeting in two weeks to secure funds for a local team this spring and build a park. The idea is to form a league with Urbana, Springfield, Sidney, Bellefontaine, Londan and other cities and towns.

According to reports of the county and city health commissioners, there were 25 deaths and 29 births in Auglaize-co during January. Dr. G. L. Lyne, district health commissioner for entire county with the exception of Wapakoneta and St. Marys, reports 18 deaths and 21 births. Dr. C. L. Mueller, health commissioner for the city, reports seven deaths and eight births.

J. E. Morton, former secretary of the Lima Merchants' association, delivered a talk before 25 members of the local association Friday night. He spoke on general matters pertaining to the work of the organization. A board of directors composed of William Schuler, O. C. Myers, Paul Schmeider, Cliff Shaw, Roland Rogers, C. S. Hartman, Howard Benner, P. I. Wright, R. J. Depenbrock, F. M. Swonguer, John Purvis, George Newcomb, Herb Wentz and Isidor Ruppert, was organized.

When blinded by a snowstorm while flagging a W. O. car west of here Thursday night, Mrs. Conrad Craft was struck by the car and thrown violently to the ground, breaking her right wrist.

Miss Gladys Pfaff was named by Probate Judge Richard Boesel as his record clerk. Judge Boesel assumed office Wednesday.

Frank Minnich, Santa Fe, was fined $50 and costs by Justice Herrmann on a charge of pursuing, with intent to kill, a pheasant. Motion for re-trial and re-taxing of costs was filed by defendant's counsel, Copeland & Lusk.

MERRY FIGHT IS STILL RAGING

County Commissioner War Refuses to Come to Stop

CHAINGES MADE DURING WEEK

Woman is Aspirant for Postoffice Job at Bluffton

(By J. W. FISHER.)

They used to — —and still do—on election days just after the close of the voting places, that "It's all over but the shouting." That hasn't happened since a certain day in November of 1920. All there was some shouting, but that of the G O P. side of the house was all we heard over.

That's only the opening wedge for this story. Among the shouters were three stalwart Republicans, a trio of water toters for the party pachyderm. They three—John W Thompson and A. L. Gray and Walter W Craig—were elected county commissioners, you'll recall, by the Bourbon boys who jobbed the "also ran" contingent.

Ah, those were happy days! And they were piping times of peace 'mong. For hadn't John and Andy and Walt been elected? 'Tis true, Walt had had his feet in the trough for two terms of two years each—but not in succession, for the folks who'd had laid him off for a two year rest. Walt contracted the same malady that all good office seekers do and stoutly maintained that last fall he was running for a second term, altho it was really a third term.

But we'll pass that. John and Andy had never before sat at the wisdom table in the county commissioners' office and since the law is so constructed that the two men receiving the highest number of votes should be accorded four year terms and the low man a two year tenure, John and Andy had reason aplenty to see their cup of joy filled to overflowing. For to them fell the long terms. Walt drew the short straw. All was lovely and the goose hung high until some wickedly designing person whispered into the auricular appendage of the aforesaid Walt that he'd been waylaid and sand bagged, held up and robbed by the folks who counted the ballot on that November day in certain precincts of the county, thru having given John and Andy votes that were not then due, when ballots were encountered whereon preference was shown for Jimmy Mackenzie on the Bourbon list, over John and Andy and Walt. They simply forgot it was a grouped candidate proposition and gave John and Andy votes, leaving Walt out in the cold, simply because Walt's John Henry happened to be opposite that of Jim.

The naughty bird with its chirp planted seeds in Walt's mind that grew. He hied himself away to see an attorney about it. It's a good case, quoth the disciple of Blackstone. We'll see what we see. The dove of peace flew out of the window at the commissioners' office when Andy, already on the job and John soon to be, got wind of what was up.

Sly Walt waited until just a couple of days before the expiration of the time limit—30 days—for filing contest suits and then hurled into court with his petition, the contents of which you have been informed about. Under the laws affecting such case made and provided, a couple of disinterested Justices of the Peace were to dig in to discover if there was anything to it and if so, certify the mess to common pleas court.

John and Andy appealed to the Prosecuting Attorney. They'd step such high handed methods or know the reason by. Their counsel kept yelling that there was no law covering cases wherein a contest developed between candidates who'd been elected, to determine which should have the long term and which the short. But nobody heard them. Things floated along. The case got into common pleas court, wherein the judge decided that February 9th would very likely be a nice day and a fine time to conduct a recount of the votes in the precincts complained of.

All of which was duly done, according to Hoyle—or rather Blackstone. When Walt started, he was three votes behind Andy and six behind John. When he finished he was 32 votes ahead of Andy and 29 ahead of John. The election board, Democrats and Republicans, counted the ballots in the presence of the court and counsel. They roped off a section of the court room to keep the idle and curious within bounds.

Now if Andy stands to lose two years of office holding and salary by the cagey expedient of Walt showing a lack of knowledge of ballot counting on the part of election judges, it appears that Andy must also pay the costs of the suit. Counsel for John and Andy vow that Walt is not going to be permitted to walk off with the sinecure not by a judicial son if they have to go to the supreme court.

While happy, John is indifferent and And has reason to be glum. If the fight continues, they'll all have to have about 90 years of salary to pay the expenses of litigation. It's a crazy life.

The past week witnessed several change in the official family in Allen co. Judge Walter H. Kinder-Democrat of the appellate court retired from the bench in favor of E N Worden of Napoleon, Henry-co a Republican. Judge William Klinger retired from the common pleas bench after a faithful service of 12 years, succeeded by Judge Fred C Becker, promoted from the Probate court. Appreciation of the members of the bar association for the uniformly excellent services of the retiring Judges was attested Wednesday evening at a banquet held at the Norval hotel in honor of Judges Kinder and Klinger, graced also by the presence of other distinguished men of Allen and other counties.

Jesse H Hamilton, who retired from the office of Justice of the Peace after his election as Probate Judge, to succeed Judge Becker, also assumed the mantle of authority and is already well domiciled in his position.

Quite naturally, with the change in the personnel of office holders, there were changes simultaneously in subordinate positions, which have for the most part been heretofore noted. Changes in major and minor positions during the past week were not featured by tempestuous developments such as attended similar events previously transpiring.

Changes were effected without friction, so far as has been made apparent in the matter of the designation of aides. If there was any opposition on the part of party men to those who caught the plums as they fell, those who possibly harbored it didn't speak about it above a whisper. Perhaps, however, the lesson that others have learned thru bitter experience along this line, has had a salutary effect in standing as a bulwark against a repetition. If so, 'tis well.

According to adherents of the same political faith that is harbored by the Governor of Ohio, Harry L. Davis is proving himself somewhat of a contender for the not endearing title of "fourflusher." In other words, those other good souls who are eyeing the topmost rung of the ladder of fame from positions lower down, have no hesitancy in stating that Governor Harry is trying to absorb all the credit that is expected to be floating around in appreciation of the "efforts" of the new administration to put thru economy measures.

Harry will be well satisfied if he can have the credit of firing every dinged Democrat hanging onto a meal ticket in Ohio and he's perfectly willing to permit the "representers" in the legislature to have all the "credit" for creating new positions he needs to reward his friends. For, there's the folks who deliver the votes to reckon with later.

In fact, the feeling between the Legislature and the Governor has become acute and the party leaders have served notice on Harry that unless he quits claiming credit for everything desirable and getting out from under the undesirable doings, they're going to bawl him out.

Harry appears to have taken it for granted that just because the Legislature is overwhelmingly Republican, it will pass anything he wants and eat out of his hand whenever he desires it for his own amusement and pastime. But he has thus early been disillusioned. It doesn't require a sage to see and understand that while there is strength in unity and safety in numbers, there is also danger in having representative government too much lopsided politically, one way or another.

The G O P boys do not appear to understand that when the electorate voted them into about everything in sight, that the same electorate has no intention whatever of delegating to them authority to overturn cherished institutions and recklessly trample all over traditions. Repeated warnings sounded by well-meaning persons have been completely ignored and the exultation that animated the breasts of the voters who swung to the G O P standard only a few months ago is being dissipated quickly and effectively. Joy has been succeeded by concern. If certain conditions continue, rage will be the next development. Then look out!

One of the sad features of the past week, incident to activities about the Allen-co court house, was the sudden and unexpected death of Miss Mayme Duggan for 15 years an employe in the office of the Probate Judge, where she issued thousands of marriage licenses to victims of the darts of Cupid.

Miss Duggan laid down the duties of her position at the court house and her responsibilities of life almost at the same time. Within practically an hour after she had performed the last act in her position of marriage license clerk, Wednesday, making the place ready in its every detail for her successor in office and retiring with the chief she served so faithfully and well, Miss Duggan was stricken fatally and died before friends could summon medical aid.

Altho having to give up, by the exigencies of political changes, a position she had long held, Miss Duggan was to continue an aide to Judge Becker, in his capacity of Judge of the common pleas court, having equipped herself for the position of assistant court stenographer. However, death intervened before the announcement of her new responsibilities was made.

Many who knew her in life, followed her mortal remains to their last resting place, and as a tribute of respect the offices of the court house were closed during the funeral hour.

Even babies sometimes have narrow escapes from having fame thrust upon them. This same happened to a new born son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hile of Spencerville, during the past half fortnight. When the stork hovered over the Hile home and left therein to the tender care of Daddy and Mrs. Hile a son and heir, it was the desire that the newcomer be christened Warren Gamaliel Hile.

Since it isn't proper that a name be fastened onto a child unless the fond parents are able to spell it, so as to afford the necessary information correctly when the assessor man comes 'round and asks for the names of new arrivals, Papa and Mamma Hile, not certain as to the correct spelling of Gamaliel, appealed to the stork's aid, otherwise known as the family physician.

That kindly soul, anxious to please and aid, tried to impart the desired information, but failed. The Dr called up about every prominent Republican in the town about it and found, to his surprise and dismay that those who voted for Harding didn't know how to spell his 'middle' name.

At the suggestion of the Dr. baby was named Arthur. And he'll probably live just as long, be just as happy and attain as great an amount of fame if it had been otherwise.

Mrs. R. E. Hughson, Bluffton spoiled an interesting bit of political gossip, Saturday, with the announcement that she is not now, never has been and will not be at any time later, a candidate for the Republican appointment of postmistress in the Richland-tp village.

It is true that Mrs. Hughson's name has been mentioned for several weeks past, in that connection, but she states that she wouldn't have the place if it was tendered to her.

That leaves the field clear for a race between M. M. Murray, present mayor of Bluffton and Wilbur Potee, a mail carrier. Murray is a well known politician and is expected to have the support of a well organized force. Potee is an overseas veteran and very likely will receive yoeman aid from the members of the American Legion.

From the standpoint of an interesting three-cornered contest for the Bluffton postoffice, it is regrettable that Mrs Hughson declines to aspire to the place. Names of other women of Bluffton have been mentioned in connection with the race for postmaster and it is not unlikely that there will be at least one woman candidate when the time comes.

ELECTRI

The world's mightiest toy—electricity. The world's mightiest power—electricity.

"I believe that Benjamin Franklin saw visions of some of the present day electrical accomplishments when he toyed with the monster force as he imprisoned it with the key in the bottle," said a local electrician in discussing the past, present and future of electricity.

"I cannot believe that Franklin pictured himself with all the common place necessities of today that were a few years ago real luxuries. I do not believe that he even dreamed of such a grand palace as the most modest modern home of 1921.

"Today, if your home isn't completely equiped with all the modern electrical appliances, your home is not only out of date, it is not efficient and the household is actually operated at a higher overhead expense. It pays to have all the electrical appliances, for time is saved, soul-rending labor is eliminated and your home is more economically conducted."

Federal Washers

Rowland's Furniture Store is the Lima agent for the Federal electric washer. The Federal has the double "wave-like" washing action.

The smooth, wooden tumbler, suspended in a tub of soapy water, oscillates 64 times a minute, swishing its suds through its many perforations. The clothes in the tumbler are dashed back and forth, up and down, in a surfy, wavelike swirl of suds. This wavelike cylinder washing action, which carefully flushes every particle of dirt from the clothes is found in the Federal Electric Washer.

T. R. Walker, a factory graduate, will explain the simple workings of the Federal in a few words. Ask for free demonstration. He will do washing free.

The Rowlands Co. also has the famous Hoover Sweepers in all sizes. Ask for demonstration.

TO ELIMINATE TROUBLES

A thousand men representing the bone and sinew of a great national electrical organization met in New York last week. These men were from what President Wilson once termed the "heart of America." Their loyalty to country and devotion to work often has stood the test in recent years. Hence, their authority to vote on the question: "What is the best method of stimulating production."

The vote was almost unanimous: "Eliminate the trouble-makers and let's get back to old times." The men are not employers — not their brothers' keepers, but just mere two-fisted Americans who believe that an honest day's work brings its rewards at the end of that day as well as in the vast field of constant opportunity.

FREE DEMONSTRATION

By simply stepping to the phone and calling Main 1106 any woman in Lima may have a free demonstration of the Ohio Tuec electric vacuum cleaner and sweeper in her home in fifteen minutes.

The local office of the Ohio Tuec, the cleaner with the red band is located in the Collins building. A large force of young men who make up the demonstration and sales organization are on the job every day and evening to be of service to women who want to investigate the possibilities of the Ohio Tuec.

AT THE LEADER STORE

"I don't believe thee is a woman in America who has not heard of the wonders of the Hoover electric sweeper," said one of the Leader store salesmen where the Hoover is being demonstrated and sold.

"The Hoover beats as it sweeps as it cleans, and there you have the salient features of the Hoover in a few words."

The Leader store has a special demonstration on the Hoover this week. It will pay you to see this famous sweepe demonstrated.

A CHILD CAN OPERATE IT

So simple to operate is the Crystal electric washer that a mere child can handle the family washing from the starting of the machine to wringing the clothes. All mechanical parts are enclosed making it exceptionally safe. Furthermore, the Crystal does the family washing efficiently in a very short time and at a total cost of from two to four cents for electric power used.

The Crystal is sold in Lima by The Wentworth-Dean Co., 211 W. High street. A payment of $15 places the machine in your home and the balance may be paid in easy installments.

This company also is making a special demonstration this week on the Western Electric Vacuum sweeper, a wonderfully efficient and high class sweeper that has met with approval of housewives all over America.

WASH THE "EASY" WAY

"Easy," that's the name of one of the finest electric washers that has come into Lima markets. It is being demonstrated at the display rooms of The Lima American Sales Co., 9 Public Square. Arthur L. Fisher is local distributor.

The "Easy" operates by a special patented feature of suction and pressure effected thru the use of vacuum cups. When this machine does your washing it can be counted on that the washing is done right and without damaging even the finest fabrics.

STILL MORE THORS

A large shipment of new Thor washing machines are arriving at the sales rooms of the Household Electric company on South Elizabeth-st, near Market. The sales of this machine in Lima have been constantly on the increase. This has not alone been due to the hustling ability of the young men who have charge of the sales here, tho they are real hustlers, but to the wonderful satisfaction that the Thor is giving to those who use it.

The Household Electric also carries all kinds of electrical appliances and fixtures.

THREAT HEARD BY GIRLS, CLAIM

Kin of Accused in Matewan Battle Testify at Trial.

DETECTIVE ON THE STAND

Tells of Evictions Leading Up to West Virginia's Fight.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va.—A Baldwin-Feltz detective and two telephone operators opened the testimony in the Matewan shooting trials here Saturday after more than two weeks had been taken up in obtaining a jury. Nineteen defendants are being tried.

John McDowell, the detective, testified to the eviction of miners from the houses of the Stone Mountain Coal Company and that Mayor C. C. Testerman and Sid Hatfield had protested to Albert Feltz. He was unable to say, he testified, who fired the first shot, but he saw Reece Chambers, one of the defendants, bringing his gun into play.

May Chafin, a telephone operator, niece of Reece Chambers, testified that she overheard a telephone conversation between Deputy Sheriff Tony Webb and Sid Hatfield in which Hatfield asked when warrants could be obtained for the Baldwin-Felts men, and threatening to kill the detectives before they left Matewan. This testimony was almost duplicated by Elsie Chambers, a daughter of Reece Chambers. Court then adjourned until nine o'clock Monday morning.

CAUSE OF BATTLE

McDowell told his story in few words.

When he was turned over to the defense for cross-examination, Attorney General J. J. Coniff went back into what has been accepted as the cause of the battle, the eviction of miners from houses owned by the Stone Mountain Coal Company.

McDowell was uncertain as to the number of families evicted by the Baldwin-Felts detectives that day, but said he believed there were five or six of them.

"How many sick persons were evicted?" McDowell was asked.

"None that I know of."

"Isn't it true that a sick woman was turned out of the house?" Mr. Coniff asked.

TOLD TO GET GUNS

"Not that I know of," McDowell answered.

"You may now tell us about the appearance of Sid Hatfield while the evictions were in progress," suggested Mr. Coniff.

"While a few of us were taking the furniture from a house," replied the witness, "Mr. Felts, who was in charge, said 'two or three of you had better get your rifles, for yonder comes the mayor, Sid Hatfield, and a gang of men.' We did as we were told. Hatfield, Mayor Testerman and two or three others came up to where we were and protested against the eviction."

Felts answered the protests of the mayor by saying he had authority to evict the miners.

"Then, Testerman said," continued the witness, "well you don't pull anything like that and get away with it down here."

McDowell said that after the evictions Felts and his men were preparing to leave Matewan. They were approached by Hatfield who told Felts that warrants for their arrests had been sworn out in Williamson and were coming on the next train.

To this, the witness said Felts replied:

"Sid, I've got a warrant for you, too."

Hatfield laughed, McDowell continued, and arm in arm he walked with Feltz toward the hardware store in front of which the first shot was fired.

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL BANK PLAN IS SUCCESS

Central High School Bank, after two weeks of operation has proven to be a decided success. New depositors are being received daily and already a large number of students have opened accounts in the bank.

Students are taking hold of the saving plan with interest and the bank is expected to be one of the biggest of the high school organizations in the near future. J. T. Cotner, head of the commercial department, is in charge of the bank.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT IS SOON TO BEGIN, COMMISSIONER SAYS

In reply to numerous complaints which have been received, mostly from the rural mail carriers, concerning road conditions, James McKenzie, chairman of the board of county commissioners stated that $250,000 is in the county treasury at the present time to be used in rebuilding and repairing county roads outside the city and that work will be started as soon as the weather will permit.

He also stated that anyone caught driving over the roads with unnecessary heavy loads will be prosecuted.

"THE HOODOO" TO BE PRESENTED BY TROUBADOURIANS

"The Hoodoo," a comedy to be presented by the Troubadorian Dramatic society of Central High school, promises to make a big hit. The play will be presented February 24th at the Central Hi auditorium.

Rehearsals are being held daily and the students are getting the play in fine shape. The cast is a well chosen one and should handle their parts with skill. Several members of the cast have been in high school plays before and have always made a hit with audiences.

Tickets will be placed on sale in the near future and if present expectations are realized a large number should be present at the play. Miss Zella Foster, head of the English department, is directing the play.

SPRINGFIELD HONORS MEMORY OF LINCOLN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Politicians and business men, idealists and ordinary folks, paid tribute Saturday to Springfield's "man of the ages," Abraham Lincoln, on the 112th anniversary of the great emancipator's birth.

Hundreds of Americans sat reverently silent at the Lincoln banquet here Saturday, while Vachel Lindsay repeated his ode to Lincoln.

Included in the party were Governor William G. Sproul of Pennsylvania and Senator Frederick A. Pezet, Peruvian ambassador to United States.

Governor Small of Illinois was toastmaster.

SEATTLE, WASH., MAN TO ADDRESS KIWANIANS

Major G. D. Beaumont of Seattle, Wash., will be the principal speaker at the Kiwanis noonday luncheon at the Elks' club, Tuesday. Major Beaumont will speak on "Alaska", his place of residence for several years.

'MYSTERY MAN' TO SEE HARDING

Charles Dawes' Visit Puzzles the Cabinet Speculators

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla.— (By Associated Press)—Charles G. Dawes, Chicago banker, who has been prominently under consideration for appointment as secretary of the treasury, headed President-elect Harding's appointment list today with a conference that started a new train of cabinet speculations here.

Once conceded to have first call on the treasury portfolio, but more recently regarded as a less formidable contender for the place, Mr. Dawes has become one of the mystery men of the cabinet problem.

In some quarters the fact of his coming at this time was interpreted as evidence he was still being considered for some high government position.

Mr. Dawes in in Florida to visit relatives, having come directly from Washington where he created a sensation last week by publicly condemning the methods of the Republican majority in congress in its investigation of the conduct of the war. Regarding his course in that regard, Mr. Harding and the officials close to him have had nothing to say, nor would they make any comment on the significance of today's conference beyond the assurance that the president-elect has a high regard for his caller's ability.

Others with whom Mr. Harding had appointments today included Henry A. Wise Wood, of New York, interested in the aviation projects, and a committee of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce who brought an invitation to the president-elect to visit that city.

RULING ON BEER ASKED OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

WASHINGTON—A ruling as to whether physicians can prescribe beer for sick people under the terms of the prohibition enforcement act was asked of Attorney General Palmer Saturday by the treasury department. Assistant Secretary McLean explained that since the recent order of the prohibition enforcement bureau permitting physicians to prescribe wine in unlimited quantities many inquiries had been received from doctors asking why the right to use beer for medical purposes was denied.

The argument was advanced. Mr. McLean said that beer had a lower alcoholic content than wine and for some ailments, particularly various forms of weakness, its medicinal properties were more valuable.

VITAL STATISTICS OF COUNTY REPORTED

Dr. J. J. Sutler, county health commissioner, Saturday made public his report for January.

Of the 86 communicable diseases investigated, 61 were cases of smallpox.

Many more deaths in all were reported. One death occurred at the tuberculosis hospital, three at the state hospital and one at the county infirmary.

Heart trouble was the cause of four deaths, apoplexy, 5; pneumonia, 3; kidney diseases, 5; tuberculosis, 3; among those reported.

Nearly twice as many boys than girls were born, statistics show, 11 girls and 20 boys being reported to the county health commissioner.

SLAIN BY INTENDED VICTIMS, REPORT SAYS

LEETONIA — Dominic Gennario, 40, known to police of Leetonia, Salem, Canton, Alliance and Youngstown as a black hand suspect met his death here last night at the hands of two intended victime, who fired 15 bullets into his body, according to the story told by the men, who surrendered themselves to themayor.

Gennario, the men said, demanded a payment of $1,500 from them on penalty of their lives. When he appeared at their home last night to collect the money, they opened fire.

Gennario, after figuring in a suspected black hand shooting here last May, was shot four times while walking on the street, but recovered in a Salem hospital, and later went to Canton. Recently he returned to Leetonia.

SOLDIER KILLED

CORK—One soldier was killed and a number of others wounded today in an attack on a passenger train outside of Mill-st station by a hundred armed men. The attackers fired on the car, which contained thirty soldiers from both sides of the line.

The wounded soldiers were taken to the Cork military hospital aboard a special train.

NEELY STORY MAY BE ERASED

McGannon Counsel Demands it be Stricken from Record

CLEVELAND — (By Associated Press- — Judge Homer G. Powell, who is presiding at the second trial of William H. McGannon, chief justice of the municipal court, charged with second degree murder of Harold C. Kagy, today had under advisement a motion of W. H. Boyd, counsel for McGannon, that yesterday's testimony of Mary E. Neely be stricken from the record.

Judge Powell will announce his ruling Monday, when the trial resumes. Today being a holiday, court was not in session.

Boyd contended that Miss Neely's refusal to answer questions bearing on the shooting of Kagy limited the defense in its cross-examination and for this reason should be ordered out of evidence.

TRAINED NURSE TELLS WHAT TO USE FOR COUGHS

Easily and Quickly Made At Home

Elizabeth McLanan says: "While nursing in Indiana last winter I took took a severe cold which got the best of me. The only thing that I could get that did me any good was Glando Pine."

Glando Pine is a highly concentrated cough compound which you get of your druggist. You add to it enough syrup to make a pint and you have a family supply of the best cough medicine you ever used. It tastes well and can be safely given to children. There is nothing better for croup. A dose or two when the croupy cough begins and your trouble is over. Coughs, hoarseness, throat tickle, sore throat and bronchial trouble are quickly relieved by Glando Pine. It costs but little. Enough for a full pint only 60 cents. Directions go with each bottle.

IN MEMORY OF FATHER

To the memory of John Shafer who passed away Jan. 31st, 1921.

There's a grave out in beautiful Woodlawn:
Far away from the noise and the rush,
Where the breeze rustles soft in the tree tops,
As if whispering a solemn "Hush."
There, close by a winding driveway,
In a spot where the sunbeams play,
And the bright stars watch thru the long still night,
We have laid our Dear Father away.
He was ever the kindest of fathers,
He was never too weary to smile;
He was never too tired to be cheerful
When we came home to visit awhile
His warn, tired form is now resting
That so long had been racked with pain;
And we never can wish to recall him,
For we know that our loss, is his gain.
Soon the soft green grass and flowers
Will cover that fresh made mound,
But in memory we'll cherish his dear loved face,
Now hidden away 'neath the ground.
We are sad, yet we need not be hopeless,
Tho his body sleeps neath the sod.
For we know thru the glad Resurrection,
His soul is at Home with God.

AGAIN BATTLE ON IMPROVEMENT

City and County Officials in Session Saturday.

DEBATE BRIDGE AND ROAD

Elm-st Bridge Cost Question Still Undecided.

Testimony by Harold Cunningham a Lima resident for 62 years served to decide the question as to whether Elm-st is or is not a county road was given at a meeting at the court house Saturday afternoon of the county commissioners, the city bridge and sidewalk committee of the council, most of the city officials and a citizens' committee appointed by the mayor, attended

Mr. Cunningham, who was born on Elm-st, where Memorial Hall now stands, stated his recollection extended back as far as the close of the civil war. He said that Elm-st was the main thoroughfare running thru the manufacturing and residence district of Lima at that time and served as a connection between the Westminster road, which was the only approach to the city from the east, and the Spencerville road which was the easiest approach to the city.

ELM-ST COUNTY ROAD

He said that Elm-st was always expressed by the residents of Lima during flood season as to whether the old Jacobs log bridge which spanned the river at the present location of the Elm-st bridge, would be washed away, this being the only possible way to leave the city to the east when the water in the river was too deep to be forded.

All statements made by Cunningham were ertified by Daniel Harpster, known as the "Sage of Shawnee-tp" and who, has resided in the neighborhood of Lima even longer than Cunningham.

Final action on the county paying its share of the erection of the Elm-st bridge is expected to be taken at a meeting of the commissioners Monday.

Following the Elm-st discussion, the question was brought up as to who other streets in Lima are in reality county roads and which streets it is the duty of the county to help improve and maintain.

After much discussion and referring to maps, it was decided that the following roads can be improved by using the funds from the two mill tax levy: Allentown-rd, North-st, St. Johns-ave from Central-ave to Market-st; S. Main-st, Fourth-st from Main-st to the B. & O. R. R., E. Elm-st and E. High-st.

DECISION ARRIVED AT

The following streets were decided upon as being county roads, but that according to law the two mill levy cannot be used for their upkeep on account of being main market roads and inter county highways: Metcalf-st as far as Elm-st, Spencerville-rd to Woodlawn-ave, Woodlawn-ave from the Spencerville-rd to Elm-st; W. Kibby-st from Shawnee to Metcalf-st; Elida-rd and Wayne-st from Washington to Main-st; N. West-st from Wayne to the city licits; Main-st from Wayne-st to the public square; Findlay-rd from Jackson-st to Market-st; Bellefontaine-st from Kibby-st to Miller-st; E. Market-st from Miller-st to Main-st and Central-ave from Kibby-st to Market-st.

A levy of .41 mills, of which the city's portion is about $19,000, is all the money available from the county for the improvement of these thoroughfares.

J. M. Boose, a member of the citizen's committee attending the meeting said, that the commissioners are holding back from the city money which is rightly due for civic improvements. He also stated that while $118,000 had been turned over to the county from taxes in the past four years in the city, only $5,000 had been returned to the city for this amount, to make improvements.

About Price Conditions
Diamonds Jewelry Silverware Clocks

We want Our Customers to feel and to know that they are getting the benefit of Price Reductions as factory lists are reduced. We, like all other sound Merchandising Establishments, realize our duty to The Public and are not hesitating to take our loss as gracefully as we took some gains when prices were on the upward trend. If you knew the inside, you would know that Reliable Merchants are readjusting their prices more quickly with The Falling Market than they did with The Rising Market, because, on the Rising Market, they could create sales by price comparison which isn't possible now.

However The Public Should and does realize, at least the reasoning part of it, that all radical price reductions were made on Jan. 1st for the present year and particularly is this true with our lines on account of their staple qualities.

STERLING SILVERWARE
On January the first, all solid silver was reduced 30% and our prices were immediately lowered in conformity. Recent silverware buyers have been agreeably surprised to find the prices almost to pre-war basis. It has dropped, in all, 1-3, which practically represents the advance.

SHEFFIELD AND PLATED HOLLOW-WARE
We have, so far received announcement from one firm of price reductions but our entire stock now carries that discount until April the first, when all remaining pieces will be priced according to the new goods arriving at that time.

DIAMONDS
As previously announced, the prices on stones of good quality have not and will not be affected, although small sizes have dropped some, due to the fact that much of the price is represented in cutting, whereas with the large stones, this is not true.

JEWELRY
Did not advance as sharply as other lines during the war and consequently, will drop only as factory cost does, because gold, the basic metal, has remained staple in price.

WATCHES
American Watches have been very short and will continue so during this year and prices will not be affected. The same applies to clocks of good quality. Some foreign goods of poor quality may be had at much reduced prices.

We have stated herein for your information, the exact conditions as they exist in our most important lines of merchandise.

WEST-CENTRAL OHIO BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD AT BLUFFTON COLLEGE TWO DAYS, MARCH 11 AND 12—PLANS COMPLE

BLUFFTON TO STAGE BASKETBALL MEET MARCH 11-12

Plans for the annual West-Central Ohio basketball tournament to be held at Bluffton under auspices of the Athletic Association of Bluffton College, are rapidly being completed and the commitee in charge guarantees an interesting series of game on the 11th and 12th of March.

Over 70 high schools have been invited to attend, and many of them have already signified their intention of doing so. On Friday night of the tournament the college varsity will meet the fast Muckingum College team. This will be the first time that these two teams have played together in inter-collegiate basketball and the public is assured a scrappy game.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Association last week, the committee decided to distribute badges to the visiting players and coaches. This year's badge will be larger than those awarded last year.

Orders for two big silver loving cups to be awarded teams landing in first and second place have already been placed with D. C. Bixel. Watch fobs for members of the first and second all-star teams were also ordered.

The various committees in charge of the tournament are being lined up to get an early start and to insure the success of the meet. The men in charge of the entertainment are Floyd Beyers, chairman, Alfred Moser, Gordon Bixel and Thomas Fenton.

These men will have rooms awaiting the visitors and will see that they are well taken care of while in Bluffton. Members of the "eats" committee are Andrew Burky, chairman, Lysle Strubher and Donald Augsburger.

FOURTH ANNUAL MEET

This is the fourth annual tournament to be staged in the Bluffton college gymn, and rivalry promises to be more keen than ever for the tournament cups. Ada HI at present holds the large cup, which must be won for three consecutive years before it becomes the permanent possession of any school. Central Hi won it the first years and Lafayette the second.

O. D. Wearly, Toledo, and Fred Trautman, Bucyrus, have been secured to referee all the games.

BLUFFTON LOSES TO GARFORD

The Bluffton American Legion basketball team was defeated by the Garford quintet in a thrilling 5-minute overtime game there Saturday night. The final score stood 31 to 29 in favor of the local aggregation.

At the end of the first half the score stood 29 to 29. Several times during the game it was tied, and the crowd went fairly wild over the cage battle.

Carl Young starred for the local team, with eight field goals to his credit. Althans, of Bluffton, led his team in scoring by making four long shots in the last half. Grant, of Garford's, made three field goals in the last half.

'TIS A GOOD THING TEX IS CALM

(By HENRY L. FARRELL)
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK — It's a good thing Tex Rickard isn't built to worry.

With a disposition to get troubled over such a mere trifle as $500,00 [illegible] the promoter peer of America might have wrinkles and gray hair.

But he hasn't. He just smiles and goes along waiting for the breaks he always found.

IS A PLUNGER

Tex isn't a meddler in little things. He's a plunger after big games. Large returns or none, he goes on.

With two big fights under his arm,—the Dempsey-Carpentier contest and the Dempsey-Willard go he has the chance for a big clean-up.

Then he hit the first bump. The New York state boxing commission practically drew a knife across the throat of his dreams by setting $15 as a top price for both fights.

He then passed up the Dempsey-Willard thing. True it was postponed until Labor Day but Broadway has money saying it will never take place.

PARTNERS GET COLD FEET

Then William A. Brady and Charles B. Cochrane, his partners got cold feet and withdrew from the promoting firm for the Dempsey-Carpentier fight.

Not yet discouraged, Rickard said he would take the whole load on his shoulders and he hired a staff of lawyers to draw the papers.

Then Cochrane comes back and says he is not going to withdraw and that he is still in the game.

Now on top of this Brady leaves town for three weeks to circulate among the motion picture exhibitors and lay the foundation for a campaign for a fight against the "blue Sunday" forces.

PLAN MEETING MONDAY

Rickard and Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, are to meet with the lawyers Monday. But as Kearns remarked rather pessimistically Saturday afternoon:

"I never did get anyplace talking to lawyers."

But Rickard doesn't seem to be entertaining a worry and Kearns appears supremely unconcerned

LEGAL CLOUD BLOWS OVER IN COURT

CHICAGO. — Attorney Thomas Nash, repregenting several Chicago White Sox baseball players, indicted on a charge of throwing the 1919 world series to Cincinnati, Saturday night notified the state's attorney's ofice that he would ask the state Monday to file a bill of particulars.

The petition will be filed before Judge William E. Dever, who will conduct the trial of the accused men March 14.

Nash contended that the players played their best and were not guilty of "fixing" the games.

MAY NOT TAKE STAND

Attorney Benedict, consul for Claude Williams, pitcher, and Joe Jackson, outfielder, two of the three players who confessed, said the defendants may not take the stand. According to the Illinois law, the attorney said, the prosecution must prove that a controversy existed before confession of defendants can be introduced for evidence.

If the players who confessed refuse to take the witness stand the state will be unable to prove the charges contained in the indictments against the men and gamblers, Short stated.

Assistant States Attorney Thomas Gorman, who will prosecute the players, saind if Jackson and Williams declined to take the stand he would not consider it a denial of their admission.

"I would not consider it a repudiation of the confessions," said Gorman. "It is unnecesary to prove that the players did not play their best game of ball.

ROBINS WILL DEPART IN MARCH

NEW YORK.—"Uncle Wilbert" Robinson will take a flock of 31 Robins, to New Orleans on March 7, from which he plans to produce another National League pennant winner for Brooklyn.

The training plans for the club, announced Saturday night by President Ebbets call for the departure of seven pitchers and two catchers to Hot Springs, for preliminary work on February 24. This group will include Cadore, Grimes, Mamaux, Mitchell, Pfeffer, Reuther, Smith, Kreuger, Miller, and al... Outfielder Tommy Griffiths.

HAS 13 PITCHEIS

When all the squad assembles in New Orleans, Manager Robinson will have 13 pitchers, four catchers eight infielders and six outfielders to start work.

The new men to be tried out by the club are Pitcher Haberham C. Durham, with the Jacksonville city league last year; Pitcher Ralph Phelps, from a Fulton, N. Y. semi-pro team; Pitcher Paul Schreiber from the Lakeland club of the Florida State League.

Among the infield talent are Walter Kelly, shortstop from St. Mary's College, California; Jack Sheehan, who finished the season with the club last year, and Caton, secured from the Pittsburg Pirates, outfielder Wallace J. Hood, recalled from the Salt Lake City club.

BOTH LOCAL SCHOOLS H HARD GAMES COMING WE

Both Lima High Schools will play teams next Friday that they have already defeated. Central will meet Findlay here and South will journey to Tiffin.

Central has an excellent chance of walloping Findlay, as they are playing on their own floor and defeated Findlay a month ago at Findlay, 28-10.

Findlay has only won two Trolley League games this year. Both of these victories were over South Hi and both were won by small scores. Findlay showed marked improvement in their game with South, Friday, but Central played a better game against Bowling Green than they have played in the last two weeks.

Central will hold hard, daily practices in anticipation of the Findlay game and to get the men in the best of condition for the Delaware tournament which opens in two weeks.

The first team will probably remain unchanged for next Friday's game. Capt. Laughlin will hold down the pivot position for Central as he has done all season. Fans were afraid that Coach Derrick would be forced to find another center, after Laughlin failed to stand the pace in the South game. But against Bowling Green Laughlin showed his old form and played an excellent game reassuring fans as to his ability.

DICK DILLE AND LUTZ

Dille and Lutz will play the forwards positions They play together well, are excellent shots and fit into the teamwork. Dilie has played his usual steady game all season while Lutz has shown himself to be a star in the last two games. It was in the Legion game that Lutz made a name for himself by dumping the ball thru the hoop seven times from the middle of the floor.

James and Devoe are undoubtedly the best pair of guards in the Trolley League. They play a scrappy, hard, game and can keep the opposing forwards away from the basket with ease.

South may meet the same difficulties at Tiffin as has caused their defeat in several games this season. This will be Tiffin's floor. Tiffin is claimed to have a very difficult floor to play on and this may handicap South. South, undoubtedly needs a new gymnasium as was decisively proven in the Fostoria and Findlay games when South was lost on a big floor and did not know what to do with the ball when they had it in their possession.

BROOKHART IS INJURED.

Capt. Brookhart will not be able to play next Friday due to his injured knee. He has been one of South's best forwards and will be missed against Tiffin like he was against Findlay. His foul shooting has been a valuable as... to the team and if he could have shot the fifteen fouls called against Findlay South would probably have won the game.

Hamon will take Brookhart's position and can handle the position with skill. He is a fast forward and a good shot. Emans will hold down the other forward position. Berger is daily improving at center and is becoming a pillar in the South team.

BERGER IS A COMER

He plays a brilliant game and is especially good on the defensive. Ireland and Williams form a good pair of guards and will attempt to hold down the two Tiffin forwards and break up the Tiffin's scoring machine.

Coach Young is confident that his team can win from Tiffin and will drill them hard this week on plays that should puzzle the Tiffin five.

Fans of both schools are getting excited as the season leaves the half way mark and the Delaware Tournament approches. Both schools are confident of improving as the season nears the close and if the teams continue to improve Lima should be on the basketball map this year.

MORAN AFTER GEORGES? IS IT TRUE

NEW YORK.—"So this Frank Moran wants some of this Carpentier's game, eh? Well, all I want to know is how he gets away."

Jack Kearns, caretaker of Jack Dempsey's business affairs, is considerably peeved over the campaign the blonde Pittsburger is waging after the European champion.

"Moran pushes over a bird who couldn't be a sparrin' partner with the champion, and they all go crazy about him. Beckett ain't got a thing but a title and he'll die as the English champion even if Joe Lynch could whip 'im," Kearns said here today.

JUST SUPPOSIN'

"Just supposin' now, that Carpentier would give this Moran a fight and Frank would push him over—where would we be? We'd have to meet Moran and there wouldn't be be much more than rent money in the go. We wouldn't get fans from Jersey to come over here to see that fight, much less fill in a big stadium.

"Did I take a chance when we met Brennan? No, never. It took us a little longer than the bugs expected, but we got 'im, didn't we? Carpentier's never going to be as sure of lickin' anybody as we were of getting Brennan."

CHURCH LEAGUE GAMES FAST

In three scrappy games of basketball last night at the Y. M. C. A. in the church league, Trinity M. E. was walloped by the South Side Church of Christ by a score of 25 to 11. German Reform won from the United Brethern outfit, 22 to 9, and the First Christian won from the Baptists, 34 to 16.

A big turn-out of interested fans watched the players as they rambled over the floor seeking victory for their respective teams.

SOME HI SPOTS IN SPORT

LEW McCARTY, once a Giant, has entirely recovered from injuries he received last year in an automobile accident at Cambridge, Mass., and will report to the Cardinals in perfect shape, he informed Branch Rickey in a letter accompanying his 1921 contract. Lew should help the Cardinals, but he will have a hard time beating Vernon Clemons for the regular catching assignment.

TRIS SPEAKER, entered in the Sunny South trapshooting handicap at Houston, was beaten by the only woman entered in the tourney, Mrs. Fred Etchen of Kansas. Mrs. Etchen broke eighty-four birds in the preliminaries and "Spoke" nicked eighty-three.

CONNIE BUSH admires Ty Cobb, but in the heat of play Bush plays no favorites. In a game between Detroit and Cleveland last summer Cleveland had a runner on second base when a slow bounding single was knocked to center field. Cobb pursued the ball and knew that he had no chance to catch the runner at the plate. The batter figured Cobb would throw home and took a big turn around first base. Cobb did not throw home, but tossed high to second base. Bush leaped in the air and got the ball, but the runner was safe.

"Why didn't you get that guy" asked Cobb, coming off the field.

"Why didn't you throw right" countered Bush.

"You ought to have got him," said Ty.

"You've been looking at Tris Speaker play center field long enough to know smething about it by this time," fired back Bush, and the incident was closed.

ABOUT five years ago two kid catchers on the lots of St. Louis began to attract attention by their good work. They were Harold Ruel and Fred Hoffman. Born in the same year, each got his first trial in professional company the same season. Ruel, more flashy, jumped right into the big show with the St. Louis Browns. Hoffman made his start in a Class D minor league with Cedar Rapids. Fielder Jones let Ruel go to Memphis and there was a howl that he had made a mistake, for Ruel came so fast the New York Yankees grabbed him. Hoffman worried along with Cedar Rapids, got into the army and it looked like he might be done for, but he came back and caught on with St. Paul as understudy to Bubbles Hargrave. It was his chance and he went so big the Yankees bought him. Thus the two rivals of kid days were on the same big league team—Ruel as a recognized regular, Hoffman just a tryout. But Ruel faded a bit in 1920 and now has been shunted off to the Boston Red Sox, while the stories from New York are that Hoffman is figured on by Manager Miller Huggins to be his main catching dependence the coming season. That is the way Fate plays her tricks.

SAYS an energetic New York Scribe:

"Featherweight Champion Johnny Kilbane's last campaign in defence of his title promises to be a highly profitable one. Before he defends his honors in New York Killy means to fight himself back into condition by taking on several third raters. The first of these bouts may be with an unknown named Blockie Richards at Dayton. Kilbane wants only $20,000 for this scrap. He also demands that Richards scale not more than 125 pounds. How much Kilbane will weigh is his own affair."

Which is printed to show that if you aren't fighting in New York every other night you're a never-was-er or an unknown.

AMERICAN LEAGUE SEASON STARTS ON APRIL 13

The American League Baseball season will open on Wednesday, April 13, and close on Sunday, Oct. 2, acording to the official 1921 schedule, released tonight by B. B. Johnson, president of the league. The schedule calls for 154 games, each club playing half this number on the home grounds.

Sunday games at Washington and New York, which were introduced into the league at the end of the season two years ago, and which became a part of the regular schedule last year, again have been scheduled, with the Washington club drawing 17 Sundays and 13 Sabbath games each being awarded to New York, Chicago and St. Louis while Detroit has been given twelve.

PERMIT SUNDAY GAMES

All the cities in the league permit baseball on Sunday except Boston and Philadelphia.

In playing the full schedule it will be necessary for each club to make three swings around the circuit.

The season will open with western clubs playing western clubs and the eastern representatives meeting each other.

Opening games are listed as follows:

Chicago at Detroit;
Cleveland at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at New York;
Boston at Washington

REMEMBER HOME FOLKS

All the clubs which start the season away from home will return to their own yards on April 21 and give the home folks their first opportunity to see their clubs in action.

Chicago after the opening games at Detroit with the Tigers, will jump down to St. Louis and tackle the Browns in a series, after which the White Sox will come back home and meet Ty Cobb's club again. Cleveland—the world's champions—who start the season at St. Louis move up to Detroit for the second series and then Tris Speaker will take his Indians home to meet the St. Louis Browns in the first game on their home grounds.

EAST TO SEE BABE RUTH

In the East "Babe" Ruth and the Yankees will be the first opponents to play at Philadelphia after the Athletics have finished their series at New York and Washington; Boston fans will get their first glimpse of the Red Sox in action when the Washington Senators come to the Hub city to raise the curtain April 21.

The Eastern clubs will be first to hit the trail for the far end of the circuit. The invasion of the west will open on May 10, when Boston will be at Chicago; Philadelphia at St. Louis; New York at Detroit and Washington at Cleveland. The west goes east June 2, with Chicago at Washington, Detroit at Philadelphia, St. Louis at New York and Cleveland at Boston.

GET 13 SATURDAYS

Chicago, Detroit, Washington and New York have been awarded 13 Saturdays each, while the other four clubs Cleveland, St. Louis, Phila-delphia and Boston have been given a dozen each.

Double headers will be played in all cities on holidays. Independence Day, July 4th—Chicago will play at Cleveland; Detroit will be at St. Louis; Washington at Boston and Philadelphia at New York.

K. OF C. PIN TOURNEY TO END TODAY

When 15 teams from Columbus, 1 from Akron and 4 from Barberton complete their bowling on the recreation alleys at the new K. of C. all today, the state tournament will end and again the alleys will be thrown open entirely for the public.

Since the tournament started, 500 men from all parts of Ohio have bowled. Much enthusiasm has been displayed, and many stars visited Lima. The alleys received much favorable comment.

Saturday night the Larks from Akron edged thier way into the lead in the 5-man events with 2688 pins to their credit.

VETERAN FAN AND PILOT RETIRES

CINCINNATI. — When Frank C. Bancroft, for thirty years business manager of the Cincinnati National league baseball club, was succeeded in that position recently by Frank Behle, an attache of the probate court of this city, one of the most picturesque figures that baseball ever produced passed from the national game.

Bancroft is ill with neuritis and he has been assured by President Garry Herrmann, of the club, that his salary will go on just the same. He became interested in baseball within a few years after the close of the Civil war in which he served as a drummer boy with a New England regiment.

SAW LARLY START

He saw the possibilities in the professional angle of the game around 1847 when he became identified with the New Bedford team. Later he joined the Worcester team. More than forty years ago he developed two men whose names will live forever in the annals of the game — Harry Stovey, king of base runners for all time and Lee Richmond, perhaps the greatest left handed pitcher of the game. In all baseball history there have been eight games pitched where no man reached first base against the winning pitcher and in less than two years' time, Richmond pitched two of these contests.

In 1884, Bancroft managed the famous old Providence team that participated in the first world series. He piloted the team thru the immortal campaign when Charles "Old Hoss" Radbourne made the pitching record that may never be equalled. "Bunny's" team won the world's championship banner that year.

IN CINCY IN 1891

In 1891 Bancroft appeared in Cincinnati as manager of Mike Kelley's Players League aggregation and he remained after "Kelley's Killers" had gone. He was engaged by the late John T. Brush, then president of the Cincinnati club, to handle the affairs of the club. In the generation that followed Bancroft became one of the most notable of baseball figures. He piloted the Reds everywhere, arranged their training tours, took them barnstorming in the fall and between times took clubs to Cuba, Hawaii and California.

In Cuba he is known as "the Father of Baseball" as it was he who took the first team of professional players to the island. He is now 76 years old.

Eighteen Years of Successful Retailing Without a "Sale"

LOWEST PRICES EVERY DAY INSTEAD OF "SPECIAL SALE" PRICES NOW AND THEN HAVE BUILT FOR THE J. C. PENNEY CO. A CHAIN OF 312 DEPARTMENT STORES WITH ANNUAL SALES OF NEARLY FIFTY MILLION DOLLARS.

Compare our reconstruction prices with the so-called "Sale" prices offered by other stores.

Do you want to trade with a store in which you can have confidence that the merchandise and prices are right every day in the year? Of course you do. That's just why it will pay you to become a steady customer of the J. C. Penney Co.

Eighteen years ago this organization started out with one small store doing an annual business of twenty-nine thousand dollars. From this modest beginning we have grown to a chain of 312 stores doing approximately FIFTY MILLION DOLLARS. During eighteen years we have never held a "special sale" of any kind in any of our stores. Our prices are marked right in the first place. This does away with the necessity for "sales." Our enormous purchasing power enables us to buy our merchandise for less money than our competitors. We eliminate middlemen's profits and pass them along to our patrons in better merchandise at lower prices.

TWO MADE ILL BY ESCAPING GAS

Open Gas Valve in St. Marys City Building

ST. MARYS — (Special) — Due to natural gas inhaled at her place of employment, Luetta Emerick, clerk of the municipal service department, is on the sick list. Auditor Charles W. Noecker, who shares the same office with Miss Emerick, left his office as usual Tuesday complaining of a severe headache. Gas was discovered escaping from an open valve leading to a stove in the lunch cafe, in basement of the building the auditor's office occupies and never used during the past seven years. The stove has been disconnected.

A surprise marriage in Kossuth has as its principals Ruth Seip, member of the St. Marys high school senior class and William Miller of Wapakoneta. Parents of the couple had not returned home when Lou Bridy.

One of the few sizable snows of the season placed a brilliant robe of crystal ermine over the St. Marys district. The snowfall deepened to eight inches in Logan county and tapered thence to two inches at mid-state points. Very moist and heavy, the snow began melting immediately after it fell. Churned with mud of unknown depth the snow helped make a mixture that tried horse and engine power, likewise the endurance and patience of drivers.

The Knight rank was conferred on two New Bremen candidates by members of Ruth one Lodge No. 54 of New Bremen forty-six members of which were guests of St. Marys Knights of Pythias. The drill and ritualistic portions of the work was put on by the visitors. There was lunch and a social hour following the formal portion of the program.

B. & O. EMPLOYES SEE MOVIE, MINSTREL AND HEAR TALKS ON SAFETY

A visualation of one year's railroad accidents as reported to the interstate commerce commission was presented to several hundred employes of the B. & O. railway and their families, in the form of moving pictures, at the Liks' club, Friday night.

A general talk on "safety" and precautions to be taken by railroad employes from J. T. Broderick, superintendent of the safety department.

Previous to the address and the motion picture a program of entertainment, including a minstrel show was given by employes of the local departments of the B. & O.

Following the picture the floor was cleared of chairs and dancing was in progress.

To Put on Flesh

Thin folks will find this simple test well worth trying: First weigh yourself and measure yourself; then take VITAMON, two tablets with every meal for 2 weeks. Then weight and measure again. VITAMON contains those wonderful health-giving substances of nature — the vitamines — which Science says you must have to be strong, well and fully developed. By increasing the nourishing power of what you eat VITAMON supplies just what your body needs to feed the shrunken tissues, strengthen internal organs and renew shattered nerve force. It is not only a question of how you look and feel—the scales and tape measure tell their own story. This two weeks test will surprise you.

IMPORTANT—While the amazing health-value of VITAMON has been clearly and positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, nervous troubles, anaemia, indigestion, dizziness, sallow skin, poor complexion and a generally weakened, rundown condition, it should not be used by anyone who objects to having their weight increased to normal. All good druggists have VITA-MON in stock.

Scripps-Booth

IF you are a professional man or a family man who wants the utmost in a moderate weight, compact enclosed car, or if you are a woman of exacting taste who prefers to drive her own car, you should find out for yourself the kind of comfort in the new Scripps-Booth Coupe.

The very lines of this smart car radiate comfort. There is in this model a lowness which obviates side-swaying, a wheel-base of sufficient length to prohibit pitching and still permit a very short turning radius for easy maneuvering in congested streets, and a source of energy in the six-cylinder valve-in-head motor that is powerful, dependable and economical.

The Principles Embodied:

The principles embodied in the "Lima Trust Plan" for creating and enlarging an estate

Are nothing more than the best principles of saving and investing.

The plan is a means of applying to the accretion of your estate the same methods which a Trust Company applied to the investment of its own funds and the enhancement of its surplus.

The private investor is fortunate indeed whose investments are governed by such sound principles. His estate grows under this plan while he lives, passes to his heirs in the best condition, and continues under able management after his death. Investigate the Plan. Read our booklet.

SEASON OF LENT NOW WITH US

Beginning of Penitential Season Sees Lull in Social Affairs All Over the City

Various Organizations Plan to Continue Charitable Work During the Period

SOCIETY LEAD—SEASON OF ... LENT is now upon us and for the next five or six weeks society will be very quiet save for a few affairs which must be thrown in here and there just to enliven things a little and to break the monotony.

A number of clubs thruout the city have discontinued their meetings during Lent. The literary and sewing clubs will continue their work.

A number of sewing clubs have already accomplished splendid success in philanthropic work of all kinds and deserve great credit. During the Lenten season the clubs have planned to do even more charity work and are planing to devote their entire club meetings to helping the needy and unfortunate. At present the King's Daughters of the First Reformed church, together with a number of other organizations of a charitable nature are buying bedside tables for use at the city hospital. This is only one example of the splendid work some of the local organizations are doing.

An art exhibit will be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium during the week of February 21 under the auspices of the Art Study club. The collection will be from the Milch Art Galeries of New York City and arrangements are being made to make this an unusually attractive affair

A number of informal affairs are being planned for the pleasure of Miss Katherine Gramm who on March 2 will become the bride of Ralph Shrider Another wedding of interest is that of Miss Rose Rosenbloom to William Schiff, which will take place Tuesday.

Wednesday, Mrs. Dora Sandoe Bachman will speak at Trinity M. E. church at 8 o'clock on "Ohio Laws of Interest to Women" Mrs Bachman comes to this city under the auspices of the League of Women Voters.

Mrs. James Feeney was hostess to the members of the O. E. U. E. club Friday. Mrs. Stockler and Mrs Fisher were the only guests Following an enjoyable evening of music a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

Mrs Homer Evans, W. High-st, will entertain the club Friday.

✧ ✧ ✧

Mr and Mrs. Cleaver, Everett, Washington, are the guests of Mrs. Cleaver's brother R. W. Parmenter, W Spring-st.

Bride-To-Be Of William Schiff

MISS ROSE ROSENBLOOM

Miss Rose Rosenbloom, charming and attractive daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. I. Rosenbloom, who on Tuesday evening will become the bride of William Schiff. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's parents on Elmwood-pl, with Rabbi Lesser, Cincinnati, officiating. The young couple will be attended by Miss Rolla Schiff, Cincinnati, sister of the bride-groom and Morris Rosenbloom, brother of the bride. The ceremony will be performed before an embankment of ferns, roses and smilax which will be covered by a lovely canopy of white satin and roses.

The Wayfarer's club will entertain with the first of a series of monthly dances in the Wayfarer's club rooms, Friday evening. This dance will not be confined to only members of the Wayfarers, but will be opened to members of other clubs thruout the city. Music will be furnished by Kibby Clark's Rag Pickers and dancing will begin at 9 o'clock. The house committee in charge include: W. M. Snyder, Harry Strasburg and Douglas Andrews.

Arrangements are being made to hold a dance at Memorial hall some time in the near future and the Green Brothers Novelty Band has been secured for the occasion.

EVENTS OF PAST WEEK SOCIALLY

Charming Affairs For Pleasure of Brides-to-be Arranged by Clever Hostesses

Notable People Visit This City During the Past Week—Resume of Social Doings

THE past week was full of interest to club-women and society devotees, in that a number of affairs of both a social and beneficial nature were held. Lima was very fortunate in having two such prominent people as Sherman C. Kingsley and Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst here during the week.

Sunday Miss Charlotte Siebers entertained at her home with a very pretty and delightful affair for the members of the cast of "O, My Omar" musical comedy, presented by the Scarlet Mask club of Ohio State university.

Probably one of the largest and most entertaining meetings was held Monday afternoon at Lima club when Sherman C. Kingsley, head of the Community Welfare work in Cleveland, spoke to the various club women and those interested in child welfare. In the evening a dinner was held at the club in Mr. Kingsley's honor.

Monday, Mrs. John Cable extended the hospitality of her home to a number of friends. A delightful musical program was enjoyed thruout the evening.

Several pretty little affairs were given for Miss Bessie M. Wright, whose marriage to Merle E. Lee was solemnized Tuesday. Another marriage of interest was that of Miss Marion McCoy to Thomas Greenland, Jr.

Thursday, a pretty reception was given by the teachers of the Central High school for the pleasure of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, who delivered an unusually interesting address at the Memorial hall, Thursday evening.

Complimenting Miss Katherine Gramm, bride-elect of Ralph Shrider, the Misses Eleanor and Erma Spyker and Mrs. Guy Breese charmingly entertained at the Spyker home Thursday evening with a miscellaneous shower.

Friday Mrs. I. R. Longsworth entertained with a prettily appointed 1 o'clock luncheon at the Elk' home in honor of Mrs. E. V. Wells, Cleveland, the house guest of Mrs. Charles Black. Mrs. Wells was formerly a resident of Lima and was one of Lima's sweetest singers.

Members of the Domestic Science club and their husbands will hold a 6 o'clock dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Black, 631 W. Spring-st, Monday evening in honor of Mr. Black's birthday anniversary. A valentine box will be the main feature of the evening.

GOOD ADVICE FOR A HUSBAND

(By SUNIE SMART)

Dear Miss Smart:

I AM a puzzled man. I do not know what to do. Two years ago my wife and I separated, because I felt we could not be happy together. I went away because I wanted to forget her and to forget our two children. Now she has written to me and says that I should support the children. Can I be made to care for them?

PUZZLED MAN

THERE should be no question in your mind regarding your obligation toward your own children and whether or not you could be compelled to care for them. Fatherly love and duty and your sense of manhood should tell you it is your duty to care for and provide for your children until they are able to care for themselves.

No wonder your marriage was not a success. You probably did not look at it in a serious way. Probably just a little quarrel of some kind was a sufficient proof in your mind that you and your wife could not be happy together. And indeed we cannot be happy if we do not have some kindness in our hearts and also a fairly clear conception of what is right and what is wrong.

Your wife and children may be in great need of aid and protection. It is weak and cowardly for you to neglect them. The right thing and the only thing for you to do is to go back to them and try to make a success of your marriage. Do your part at least. You must have loved your wife when you married her and she must have loved you. See if you can win back that love and make a fresh start.

Dear Miss Smart:

(1) I am a girl of 15. How long do you think that I should wear my dresses? (2) I love a boy very much. Do you think that it would be harmful if I would ask him out for dinner? (3) There is another girl in love with this boy and is very jealous and watches us very closely. What can I do to please her and not make her jealous?

(4) Is it wrong to go to shows on Sunday? (5) What the following mean (a) Mary, (c) Hanna.

(1) This question answered a number of times I do not think that really be any harm in all things do not let that you think she is Be friendly and nice to mention your boy while in her presence question has also been No, I see no harm in movies on Sunday. (5) in fame; (h) bitter; (c)

Dear Miss Smart:

I have been bothered for some time and I have taking yeast will afford compressed yeast. If result in a gain in weigh Yeast is very good who suffers from indige foam is recommended tions fo rtaking it co cake. I could not say is fattening to one, b healthy.

Frocks for Spring Are Here

Charming---Distinctive---Youthful

Such a varied and altogether delightful collection of smart frocks has not been seen for many seasons.

This year everyone can dress becoming, whether tall and slender, or short and plump, there is a style for every type. Something simple and plain, but quite different, for the conservative; and the Parisian conceits for those who desire to be more individual.

Really we wouldn't attempt to describe any of these lovely dresses because we could not do them justice, and then, too, you will enjoy so much better seeing them for yourself.

Just as a word of warning, it wouldn't be a bad idea to come in tomorrow, you know how it is with good things, they are soon weeded out.

And by the way, don't forget that we carry "Peggy Paige" frocks and this year they are the cleverest yet.

All Theatres Have Great Array Of Talent In Film Plays For The Week

Variety Is Afforded the Most Discriminating In Choosing

Latest Releases Booked for Pleasure of the People of Lima

(By ESTHER WAGNER)

THERE'S a host of worthy film offerings in store for followers of the cinema art, a program in fact, that is complete from every standpoint.

Comedy films are well represented on the week's list, and there will be several dramas of a more tragic nature insterpersed, giving variety.

The Faurot announces a most unique and interesting program for today and all week, with a bill of pure comedy films for today's and Monday's enjoyment. There is to be a two reel Mack Sennett picture, a Carter De Haven offering and a new Fatty Arbuckle film, all on one program. Sounds fine, don't you think?

The Regent, too, has a mighty nice little program for today, offering Charles Ray in his very newest "Nineteen and Phyllis." This is Charlie's third picture under the First National banner, and according to advance reports, it is his best.

* * *

Bert Lytell holds the stage today and for four days at the Sigma theatre, appearing in his "The Price of Redemption," the story of an English outcast, besides a new Buster Keaton comedy, entitled "Neighbors." Buster Keaton is one of the best known and best liked comedians of the day. The picture "Neighbors" is, of course, a hum-dinger.

Little Shirley Mason, the diminutive Fox star, comes to the Sigma theatre the last three days of the week in "The Little Wanderer."

Pauline Frederick, the screen's most beautiful emotional actress, comes to the Regent the last three days of this week in "Roads of Destiny." Miss Frederick is a known quantity and her work in this production is said to be excellent.

* * *

The Lyric's bill for the forthcoming week is a mighty interesting one. Miss Alma Rubens, who will be remembered as one of the principals in "Humoresque" is at that theatre today for four days in "Thoughtless Women," described as one of the most human and appealing screen features ever shown here.

The idol of the heart feminine, Mr. Eugene O'Brien, will be presented at the Lyric theatre the last of this week in "Broadway and Home." Mr. O'Brien does his usual good work and the supporting cast is excellent.

* * *

Justine Johnstone, a new recruit from the Follies ranks, makes her screen debut in this city at the Faurot on Thursday and Friday in "The Plaything of Broadway." Miss Johnstone is a remarkably clever little actress and is one of the most beautiful young ladies on the stage today. Her initial vehicle "The Plaything of Broadway" promises much in the way of dramatic interest and human appeal.

Dorothy Dalton, whose every appearance here is greeted with such enthusiasm, will be shown at the Faurot on Tuesday and Wednesday in "The Romantic Adventures." Miss Dalton has a splendid starring role and makes of the production a very entertaining little drama.

* * *

Viola Dana, Marguerite Clark, Geraldine Farrar and Corrine Griffith, four of the screen's most beautiful stars, are booked to appear during the forthcoming week at the Majestic theatre, each in a worthy presentation. Miss Dana holds the boards today in "Please Get Married," a comedy-drama of the first water.

Mack Sennett's "Married Life" is at the Rialto today, and will be followed on Tuesday by Tom Moore's "Duds."

The Royal's program has three superlative features for the week, opening with "His Own Law" in which Hobart Bosworth is starred.

* * *

The Lyric's Pictures

ALMA RUBENS, the beautiful screen favorite, whose wonderful artistry is vividly portrayed in "Thoughtless Women," which is being shown today at the Lyric theatre, has the greatest role of her career in this production.

The story centers around the activities of a mother, whose vanity and hypocrisy inflict unbearable hardships on her daughter. The latter's rebellion is to no avail and she is married to a wealthy banker who, among other things, can give her a place in society, which is just what the girl's mother had always wished for.

The startling climax to this train of events makes the picture one of the most enthralling and absorbing tales ever filmed. From the pen of Daniel Carson Goodman, it is one of the most elaborate and massive productions of the season.

Besides Miss Rubens, the cast includes Lumsden Hare, a famous New York leading man, whose success on the speaking stage with Nance O'Neil and Maxine Elliott has brought him to the front. He has been characterized as a master.

Mercetia Esmond, who portrays the role of the satiracle mother, is splendid.

"Thoughtless Women" will satisfy your craving for something different and worth while in cinema dramas. It opens today at the Lyric theatre.

Ben Lodge, Dudley Clements and Clara Moore in a scene from "Shavings", the Cape Cod comedy which Henry W. Savage will offer at the Faurot Saturday, matinee and night, with its original New York cast.

VODVIL BILL AT THE ORPHEUM

Starting today Matinee Mgr. Shaw of the Orpheum Theater will offer a bill of six "VODVIL" acts that he classes as a "Hum-Dinger" or in plain good old U. S. A. a dandy Vaudeville Show.

Fred Andrews and Co. billed as the feature attraction will offer an act entitled "Liquid Air." In full view of the audience, Mr. Andrews fries an egg on top of a cake of ice. He has a kettle which is termed the "Magic Kettle" and performs seemingly impossible stunts with this kettle. He carries special settings, and each and every moment that he holds the stage he has the attention of the audience with various stunts.

Johnson and Parsons in "Jazz Thats Jazz" have an offering that is built for laughing purposes only. This act comes highly recommended to Lima having just completed an engagement in Cleveland.

Harry Mason and Company will offer a sure fire hit with laughs galore. The Rieff Brothers Eccentric Comedians and Dancers of the first water, are the best in their line. These two boys have lately appeared with a New York Production and are booked for a tour of the circuit.

Allen and Canfield, a guaranteed offering, will offer comedy interspersed with singing and dancing, that is par excellence.

Another dandy act will complete a six act program that is the top notch in "Vodvil." Commencing Thursday and for the last half of the week an entire new show of six acts will be offered, headlined by the "Ross Wise Trio." This act has been a positive hit in all theaters on the circuit and will no doubt repeat its success in Lima. The Three Kenna Sisters will offer a diversion of Singing and dancing. If you've never seen triplets, don't fail to see the Kenna Sisters billed as the only triplets in Vaudeville. Chas. and Ina McAvoy, will show the trials and tribulations of a newly married couple. A laugh from start to finish. The Kaitro Japs are one of the first troupes of this kind that has been here this season and will no doubt meet with instant approval.

Two other high class acts will wind up a bill that spells entertainment. Friday will be "Ladies Free Matinee as usual. Saturday will be Bargain Matinee for the children when the kiddies can take any seat in the house for ten cents. If you aren't in the habit of attending "Vaudeville" shows take a trip to the Orpheum today and be convinced that Manager Shaw is offering the people of Lima good clean wholesome entertainment.

O'BRIEN JAZZ AT THE LYRIC

As an extra added attraction to day at the Lyric theatre, the management is bringing the famous O'Brien's Peerless Quintet" an organization of young men which has everywhere met with unstinted praise. They play and sing only popular selections and render them in a way that puts them high above the average entertainers.

O'Brien's Quintet will be featured after each performance today at the Lyric theatre and are sure to prove one of the most novel and high class "added attractions" ever brought to this city.

CHU CHIN CHOW' AT TOLEDO

"Shavings," Story Of Cape Cod Toy Maker, Who Appraises World Daily

Comes to Faurot Theatre Saturday Afternoon and Evening

Jed Winslow's Vocation Brings Him the Name of "Shavings"

USUALLY when a play leaves New York after a long and successful run its cast is impaired by various changes, but "Shavings" which will be presented by Henry W. Savage at the Faurot on Saturday afternoon and night comes there intact, not even slight changes being made in the cast or the presentation. This is especially gratifying in-as-much as Harry Beresford in the role of "Shavings" made a most flattering impression on the New York public and press while the supporting cast is as flawless as a cast could well be.

"Shavings" is a Cape Cod toy maker who day after day looks out from his little shop and views the world from a very original viewpoint. His quaintness is manifested in simple, natural ways. He is always misplacing his tools and once he absent mindedly uses a wad of money to stop a window from annoying him by its rattling. He is constantly talking to his toys and gesticulating in a weird way all of which accounts for the fact that everyone considers him queer and "Shavings" has come to be deemed a name which fits him better than his own name, Jed Winslow.

As the story progresses and one penetrates more and more into the life of sacrifice lived by "Shavings" he warms to the character and finds the play gaining an unusual grip on him. There is sufficient comedy to provide the required laugh interest and there is sufficient sober intensity to balance the action. A pretty love story is worked out, and, in fact, heart interest is what gives "Shavings" its greatest appeal.

Every character has been drawn with a fine regard for the fitness of things. Not one of them have been exaggerated for the purposes of the stage but each and every one is at home in the quiet, simple Cape Cod atmosphere which is an atmosphere all its own.

Joseph C. Lincoln, who knows his Cape Cod probably better than any living writer, wrote "Shavings" and the novel was eagerly seized upon the reading public. Not always is it true that a successful book makes a good play but the long successful runs in New York, Boston and Philadelphia, testify that "Shavings" is even a better play than it was a book.

Mr. Beresford is supported by a cast of unusual excellence which contains James Bradbury, Charles Dow. Clark, Clara Moores, Patricia Morris, Marie Vernon, Ben Lodge, Robert Craig, Mitchell Harris, Bishop Dickinson and Dudley Clements.

The play will have its Chicago premiere at Powers Theatre on Sunday night February 30, and our theatregoers will have the privilege of witnessing this delightful play before the Windy city.

The Faurot Pictures

Something new in the picture entertainment line is offered at the Faurot today. The whole bill is practically made up of Paramount two-reel comedies, with just enough news, scenic and novelty subjects to give you a chance to wipe your eyes between laughs. The headliners are Mack Sennett's latest and jolliest farcical skit, "A Movie Fan", "Fatty" Arbuckle's famous hit, "A Rough House" and Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven in a pleasant little comedy, "Vacation Time." That is surely enough to constitute an entertainment that will keep you in roars of laughter, but for breathing spells and for variety's sake the Faurot has added the Pathe News, the Vanity Girls in a dashing and sprightly sketch and "From a Piscatorial Angle", a Nature picture that will make you yearn for Fishin' Time to come. It's a program that makes a refreshing change from the usual feature bill and there's hardly anyone that doesn't need a good, hearty laugh at the present time. The Faurot furnishes the prescription.

Next Tuesday and Wednesday the Faurot will have Dorothy Dalton in her latest Paramount picture, "A Romantic Adventuress," which the writer declares (having seen it screened) to be one of the best things the fair Dorothy has ever done.

On Thursday and Friday Realart's new star, Justine Johnstone, will make her first appearance on the screen at the Faurot in "The Plaything of Broadway". This beautiful and popular girl is a recruit from the musical comedy stage in New York and also gained considerable prestige as the presiding genius of "The Justine Johnstone Little Club," which was the nightly rendezvous of ultra social set. Realart has given her a clever story and a decidedly notable cast for her screen debut and Lima will doubtless find her as likeable as the Metropolis did.

The Regent Picture

"A LIVELY lesson in the high cost of loving" about describes the Regent's current offering, "Nineteen and Phyllis," in which Charles Ray is starred. And to say that it is an irresistible attraction is putting it mildly. Ever see a picture of Charlie Ray's that wasn't a winner? Certainly not!

This picture "Nineteen and Phyllis" is about a nice young man, Andrew Jackson Cavanaugh, 19, terribly in love, wild to get married—and stone broke. As if this isn't enough to bear, he must needs watch out for a hefty young man with a dress suit and a flivver who fain would win the lady in question, said lady being Phyllis Laurin, portrayed by Clara Horton, who has just passed her sixteenth birthday.

How Andy solves the problem and gets rid of the unwelcome rival makes some of the best silver sheet entertainment you've ever seen or ever will see. It's human and humorous and full of chuckles and laughs.

Lincoln Stedman, who, they say is Myrtle Stedman's son, is cast as the weighty Jimmy Long and proves a mighty good find for that particular role. Miss Horton is an able little actress and will be remembered for her splendid work as "Youth" in the screen version of "Everywoman."

"Nineteen and Phyllis" opens a four day engagement today at the Regent theatre.

ROSEMARY THEBY GOING ON STAGE

On the completion of four pictures in which she is to be featured Rosemary Theby, who plays an important role in Sidney Franklin's production, "Unseen Forces," will journey to Europe to study voice with a view later to appearing in a New York musical production. While abroad it is probable that she will appear in a British-made film.

"The Price Of Redemption," Soul Stirring And Clever Screen D

Adaption From the Novel, "The Temple of Dawn"

Shirley Mason Coming for Week-End In "Little Wanderer"

ONE of the most picturesque and soul-stirring dramas ever presented on a Lima screen comes to the Sigma theatre today when "The Price of Redemption" opens a four-day engagement. Bert Lytell, popular in the ranks of young leading men, handles the outstanding characterization.

The story of "The Price of Redemption" is an adaption of the novel, "The Temple of Dawn," by L. A. R. Wylie, and as such presents a study of life among the native villages and army garrisons of India. The settings are very elaborate. The locale is laid in India and none of the background necessary to bring out the barbaric splendor and vivid richnes of that interesting country has been omitted. Statues have been designed and carved especially for this picture; temples have risen from the studio lot. In fact, the scenes are the most realistic ever constructed for a cinema offering.

The part of the youn English outcast who later proves his worth is especially adapted to the needs of the versatile Mr. Lytell. And Miss Cleo Madison, who used to thrill thousands with her wonderful work in serials, has one of the leading feminine roles playing the part of Annie Steele, the English wife of the Hindu Raja.

Love, hate and romance are skillfully blended in this drama and the finished whole is a splendid piece of work, interesting, well-acted and costumed and in the main a well-characterized production.

It opens today at the Sigma theatre.

* * *

Petite, charming Shirley Mason is on her way to visit us again. This time she will appear in "The Little Wanderer," coming to the Sigma theatre the last three days of this week.

As Jenny, the little wanderer, Miss Mason is exquisite. She appears as a friendless little girl who flees from a hard master, Disguised as a boy, she makes her way to the big city as a tramp on a coal train.

Forced by circumstances to reveal her sex, the love romance of the story begins and is carried forward with extreme cleverness and acute human interest to a final climax that is forceful, but in every way logical.

Miss Mason's support in the picture includes Raymond McKee, Alice Wilson, Jack Pratt and Creil Vanauker.

Majestic Picture

"Please Get Married," the Screen Classics, Inc., production of the successful broadway stage comedy of honeymoons, starring dainty Viola Dana, has been booked as the attraction at the Majestic theatre, beginning today and the management assures its patrons of entertainment of the most amusing kind. "Please Get Married", by James Cullen and Lewis Allen Browne, was one of the hits of the season when it was produced in New York by Oliver Morosco, and all of its mirth - provoking qualities have been transferred to the screen.

The photo-production was made under the personal supervision of Maxwell Karger, Screen Classics, Inc., Director General, and is released by Metro.

Miss Dana is ideally role of Muriel Ashley young wife in "Plea ried." In the delicious a wife, but not a wi every drop of comedy naughtiness with whic surcharged.

Wild Love Ends Violently, Passion Is Not Best Counsellor, Is Play Moral

Greenwich Village Theater Again Distinguishing Itself by Offering

"Midnight Rounders of 1921" Leaves Little to the Imagination

BERT LYTELL IN THE PRICE OF REDEMPTION

At Sigma Theatre today. Added attraction, Buster Keaton in "Neighbors".

NEW YORK. — (Special). — The Greenwich Village Theatre is again distinguishing itself by the production of "an unusual play." It is called "Eyvind of the Hills," a powerful and pessimistic Scandinavvian tragedy of the last century. The author is Johann Sigurjonsson. The play is redolent of the atmosphere of Strindberg and Ibsen, but there is a spell of wild romanticism over the events which lifts it more into the realm of imaginative fiction. But as an exposition of primitive passion it is a compelling work, with rough and ready folks and storms and mountains mingling curiously with the rugged edges of human nature. If any moral is to be drawn from its telling it is that wild love ends violently and that passion is not always the best counsellor. But hear the story:

Halla inherited a good farm from her husband, with whom she did not always get along well, and has fallen in love with Eyvind, her overseer, a wild, handsome fellow with a bad reputation. Bjon, her brother-in-law whom she hates, and who wants Halla and the farm for himself, warns her against Eyvind. He asserts that Eyvind is a convicted sheep-thief who escaped from jail in a distant part of the country. Eyvind, accused Bjorn, at first denies the charge, but at last confesses. He was driven to commit the crime, which is punishable with life-long imprisonment, by dire necessity to save his family from starvation. Halla's first impulse is to discharge him, but she breaks down, and yielding to a sudden fit of passion, ask him to marry, apparently without the usual ceremony. At first Eyvind hesitates, but in the end he consents, and for a few weeks the pair live in a state of happy secret union.

* * *

All would have gone well, perhaps, but for the revengeful Bjorn. The brother-in-law has not been idle. He has gathered the evidence of Eyvind's conviction, and comes with the judge and a warrant to arrest him on the very day that Eyvind has made up his mind to escape to the mountain and become an outlaw in anticipation of what is to come. But Halla persuades the judge to accept her as temporary custodian of her lover and goads Bjorn, by taunting him with cowardice, to challege Eyvind to a wrestling match, in which he is ignominiously worsted. This provides a stirring incident one of a number—which ends in Halla announcing her determination to dispose of the farm and follow Eyvind into the mountains to share his fate of an outlaw.

In their hut among the peaks they are discovered three or four years later with their child and Arnes, the beggar, who has joined them in their retreat. Halla is still devoted, but Eyvind, tho not wholly without affection for her, is growing indifferent and impatient with Halla, which Arnes, secretly in love with her, resents in sullen fashion. Halla remonstrates with him, and in a scene of powerful interest he recklessly avows his passion for her and warn her that pursuers are on their track. He intends to go into the lowlands and take whatever punishment may be in store for him. Before he can go, the revengeful Bjorn is upon them with his minions of the law. The act closes with a tumultuous scene in which Halla throws her child into an abyss rather than have it fall into the hands of her enemies and Eyvind stabs Bjorn to the heart.

* * *

There is an interval of years, and in the last act Eyvind and Halla, middle-aged, worn, weary, gray and starving, are cowering over a tiny fire in a stone hovel while a blizzard is raging without. Their dream of love has passed. The fires of passion have all but died out. The monotony of daily companionship has extinguished all feelings but a callous apathy and desperation. With no future to lure them, no hope but death, they brood in sullen silence over their fate, ready to spring at each other's throats. Intervals of silence are followed by outburst of re-criminations and reproaches, prayers, defiant blasphemy, until at last they separately rush into the storm to perish.

The production offers Margaret Wycherly a good opportunity to display her ability in the part of the woman, altho Halla's character is not quite within her range. In fact, it would be difficult to pick out any one of our younger actresses with the capacity to do full justice to its requirements. But it is, on the whole, an interesting acting performance. The play is not likely to become popular, but people with a taste for strong drama find it intensely interesting.

* * *

The antithesis is the latest spectacle of the Century Promenade, "Midnight Rounders of 1921." It begins just about the time that today fades into the past tense, and enables you to crowd an ordinary week's diversion into short compass. You can go to any of the regular theaters from 8:15 to 11 after taking a light supper, and be in time for the Rounders atop of the Centention between your later supper and a real folly show of a typical Shubert kind that leaves little to the imagination. The performance attains its apex in a temple scene depicting the sacrifice of a beautiful maiden amid great pagentry by snake worshippers to their snake god. However any fugitive impression of tragic import is speedily counteracted by a wealth of vaudeville specialties, which are of the most approved type and highest class.

* * *

Thursday evening, too late to get the deserved attention, the Messrs. Shubert opened their new theatre, the Ambassador, soon to b followed by a number of other playhouses of their creation. The first attraction is "The Rose Girl," a musical production by Dr. Anselm Goetzl, book and lyrics by William Cary Duncan. A feature is the reappearance after a number of years' absence of Lydia Lopokowa, the Russian dancer, who is seen in a special number, entitled "The Ballet of the Perfumes."

* * *

There seems to be little doubt that the motion pictures have completely killed off the theater gallery. Old theater-goers know, and those who are not old enough to be old theater-goers but have been more or less close to the playhouse, have it in the way of tradition that in the days of the great actors the gallery was an institution. It used to be said that the best critics sat in the gallery. Famous players would inquire between acts, "What's the feeling in the gallery?" The gallery was not afraid to express dissent if things didn't please it. It was merciless on impostors. It knew real acting when it saw it. It was the manager's mainstay in troubled times. Whatever went into the gallery was "velvet." It saved many an enterprise from bankruptcy.

That was in the good old times. It is decidedly different today. There is practically no such thing any more as the gallery. Structurally it still exists. But it is an inanimate object, a mere architectural conception. It stands deserted. The moving pictures killed it.

At least that is the impression, tho why it should be so is not as easily explained as might appear. The same people who go to theaters go to moving pictures. But why they pay the increased prices to occupy seats on the ground floor and avoid the gallery?

* * *

There is to be another season of "Peg O' My Heart." The comedy is to be revived at the Cort Theater on February 14 with Laurette Taylor in her original role of Peg. She and the play were the opening attraction of the Cort Theater, where it continued uninterruptedly from December 20 1912, until May 30, 1914, recording in all 604 performances. Morosco put out three or four traveling companies and Miss Taylor went to London in the play, where it enjoyed some vogue but not near the popularity it had gained in the United States. Whether it will exercise the same spell after an interval of more than eight years is a little problematic, and Miss Taylor's prsonal popularity will have to be relied upon somewhat.

High Class Musical Treat In Store for Patrons of the Lyric Theater Today

O'Brien's Peerless Quintet together with "Thoughtless Women" with Alma Rubens as the star, constitutes one swell program.

Some program at the Lyric theater for four days starting today. The chances are there has never been a better one, for in addition to one really wonderful picture there is "O'Brien's Peerless Quintet" as an added attraction. Just a word about this musical aggregation which has a reputation for excellence without comparison almost from coast to coast. Everywhere in demand, it is fresh from Indianapolis where it was the star attraction at the Auto show. Composed of genuine musicians—every single one of them, it is snappy, jazzy and peppy, yet withal at no time losing sight of the real essential in all music—Harmony. Its performances please everybody. Its selections are within the range of every ear. Its program is composed of instrumental rendition of popular hits. Its singing includes the latest songs. You will hear for instance: "My Little Bimbo", "All She'd Say to Him Was Umh Hum", "Margie", "My Wonder Girl", "That Old Irish Mother of Mine", etc. Remember, just about 20 minutes of the sweetest, snappiest music you ever heard, preceding every performance. Can't make any mistake by going to the Lyric today.

A Riot of Fun at The Sigma Today

BERT LYTELL IN THE PRICE OF REDEMPTION

Buster Keaton in his latest and greatest fun-maker "Neighbors," an added attraction to the great feature "The Price of Redemption," with popular Bert Lytell and all star cast.

There's a smile in every bit of gossip and a grin in every mishap in Buster Keaton's greatest and latest laughing vehicle, "Neighbors" which comes to the Sigma theatre today, a hole in the fence that starts the line of chuckles, when Buser begins his neighborhood flirtation.

Good comedies are hard to find, and in "Neighbors" the patrons of the Sigma are going to see the comedy that was selected on the first programme of the beautiful new State Theatre in Cleveland the past week.

If you enjoy a good hearty laugh you can not afford to miss the show offered at this popular theatre today, better come early and be assured a seat.

Today's programme is sort of a two ring circus, for in addition to Buster Keaton in "Neighbors," the special feature picture is none but that popular favorite Bert Lytell in one of his greatest pictures "The Price of Redemption," a picture that has brought the highest praise from press and public.

"The Price of Redemption," is a massive production, a soul-striring drama of a man who conquered himself, a story of a man too independent to rely upon his millionaire father-in-law for support. He makes a great sacrifice for a woman's love and consequently goes through ten years of "hell" before his final regeneration. The Sigma orchestra and pipe organ will offer a special musical program. m

Alma Rubens, Star of "Humoresque", at The Lyric Today In "Thoughtless Women"

And don't overlook the added attraction—

"O'Brien's Peerless Quintet".

All roads lead to the Lyric today—the amusement 'where they do things bigger' and this slogan, which has come to be a generally recognized truth in Lima is to be well borne out today by the wonderful program which will be in evidence. In the first place Alma Rubens, the noted star of "Humoresque", will hold the boards in "Thoughtless Women", which is pronounced as the best achievement of her career. And second, but not to be overlooked, there is to be an added attraction in the form of "O'Brien's Peerless Quintet", which will both surprise and please you. Every household in the world has its problems among which is vanity and hypocracy to a greater or less degree. We dislike to admit it, but we know that it is true. If you want to learn a real lesson—if you wish to see a page torn right out from everyday life—your life, everybody's life—and put on the screen before you, come and see "Thoughtless Women". It's entertaining to a high degree. It's alive with tensely dramatic situations. It will stir your heart. It will move you and make you 'feel' and best of all it may help you to solve a problem in your own household. Now don't make the mistake of going elsewhere. Come to the Lyric first today for then you will be sure to have seen one worthwhile picture For Alma Rubens in "Thoughtless Women" speaks to all women in this production in language that they understand.

TO THE THEATER GOERS OF THE CITY OF LIMA

Today I make the most interesting announcement I have ever made in my career as a theatrical manager.

I believe the information contained in the following statement will be read with intense interest by all who value the best and most artistic in the world of amusement.

I have always faithfully endeavored to bring to my patrons the biggest and the best theatrical attractions of all times, for I know that only the biggest and the best appeal.

Now I am happy and proud to announce that I have contracted with F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest, producers of the world-famous "Chu Chin Chow", whereby that brilliant and gorgeous spectacle of ancient Bagdad, the world's most beautiful production, will appear at the Saxon Auditorium one week, beginning Monday evening, Feb. 28.

"Chu Chin Chow" is a gigantic and gorgeous musical extravaganza, in 14 scenes, with 18 musical numbers, produced on a scale of colossal grandeur, employing the services of 300 people. It was originally presented in London at His Majesty's Theater, nearly five years ago, by Oscar Asche, in association with the late Sir Herbert Tree, and is still playing there to capacity.

The American production of "Chu Chin Chow" was made by Messrs. Comstock and Gest, after the payment of the biggest royalty ever known in the theatrical world, in New York more than three years ago, the scenery and costumes being imported from England and being exact duplic of the originals.

"Chu Chin Chow" ran one enti ason in New York at the Century Theater and then played an e re season in Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and several other big cities.

This great production, once more presented in New York at the Century Theater in August, for a return engagement, and now embellished with many additional scenes and new costumes, comes here direct from its second engagement on Broadway.

Owing to intense interest in the engagement, MAIL ORDERS for this important theatrical event will now be received. Send remittance with self-addressed stamped envelope for return of tickets, and as there will unquestionably be an avalanche of mail orders, please name choice of two performances to insure getting seats.

Prices: Nights, $2.20, $2.75 and $3.00; Wednesday and Saturday Matinees, $2.20 and $2.75 . Prices include war tax.

I believe the engagement of "Chu Chin Chow" will be the most notable event ever known at my theater.

TIME FOR ACTION

CENSORSHIP of news of robberies, thuggery, mistreatment of women and girls on streets and in their homes was clamped on The Lima News officially by Chief of Police O. J. Roush yesterday afternoon. He issued an order that representatives of this newspaper henceforth will be given access only to the arrest book, which rarely contains an entry.

This is not new. It was the withholding of news of depredations thruout Lima that caused this newspaper to make an investigation in the interest of the public.

It has been clearly determined that a crime wave does exist here. Homes have been broken into, girls attacked, business places robbed, automobiles stolen and practically every other offense in the category of crime committed, except murder.

Facts are facts. During the last few days accounts of scores of criminal acts have appeared in the news columns of Lima papers. The police have "played down" and withheld these reports because they have made no arrests. So far as protection to the public is concerned, Lima might as well have had no police force.

There have been numerous instances where it took from half an hour to an hour and a half to get an officer to homes, altho thugs were actually on the premises when calls were sent in. That is NOT SERVICE for which the taxpayers of Lima are contributing.

Failing to check the wave of crime here, police officials have resorted to threats and censorship. Meanwhile accounts of more robberies come from the public, and police fail to make arrests.

City officials who are responsible to the public for the police department should not delay further an investigation to determine why it is failing in the performance of its duty; why night after night homes are entered, robberies are perpetrated and women frightened and nothing is done by the police.

Mayor Frank A. Burkhardt is responsible to the citizens of this city. The police department is directly under his administration and if it fails to function, he alone is to be held accountable.

This newspaper has no axe to grind. Its sole business in this matter is to give the news to the public and it was the refusal of the police department to release news of crime which made necessary an investigation on the outside. What has been found is so serious no citizen of Lima can honestly discount it.

If city officials fail to take immediate steps to make the city safe for women and girls to be on the streets and alone in their home, the citizens should demand that council act. It is within the power of this body, representative of the people, to probe to the bottom and determine why the police force is failing to afford protection.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

BUSINESS conditions the country over for the past week have been generally dull, with little indication of activity before spring. In fact, spring is the usual barometer of the year rather than the year end and entrance into the new. The crop outlook is vital to staple business and this is not known until spring.

Industrially, many reports of reopening shops, especially in the motor trade, brightened financial circles during the week. The troubles of Henry Ford have probably been exaggerated, altho so good a trade organ as the Wall Street Journal has persistently been exposing the motor king's finance and caprices among his managing heads. It is said the great Ford factories are working under fifty percent capacity. Beef, copper, steel and rubber remain depressed; but wholesale distribution of dry goods shows increase as does the textile trade.

Locally, merchants are between seasons; with final cleanups being made, there being terrific cuts in ready-to-wear shoes and furniture. Buying power in the district is slightly lower, and slowing up. Declining pay rolls in shops, even among those which have been fairly well at capacity, are beginning to be reflected. On the whole, merchants have adjusted and the buyers' strike can be said to be over, for the levels now reached are as good as in 1917. In fact there has been a drop in all commodities equal to 93 per cent since 1914 according to the Labor Bureau statistics.

Money is still in heavy demand; and with deposits sinking, banks and bankers are having strenuous times accomodating their patrons. Loans are being renewed, rather than paid off or reduced: and especially are farmers renewing rather than selling grain, live stock and produce.

In real estate circles, optimism in Lima is contagious; there will be building of many houses and a few business structures are planned.

A PLAN FOR LIMA

LIMA is no worse off than any other city; rather it is far ahead of the general run of municipalities in most respects and is continuing to progress. Altho this is the case, it is not remarkable that the Chamber of Commerce received some 700 suggestions when it asked its membership what the city needed most.

None will deny that Lima is in need of many things. It may be true there are 700 improvements which could be made, but even the most optimistic city booster cannot even have visions of accomplishing that much or even half of it during the next year or two.

The Chamber of Commerce has outlined its program and gives every promise of becoming a real factor in accomplishing that which will make for a better city for everyone. Its management is progressive and well trained in this work and the spirit which exists is most commendable.

But the Chamber of Commerce cannot do everything. It must have the fullest cooperation of every agency within the city limits. Many of these have pledged their assistance in any and every thing they are called upon to do. That is the spirit that will win.

The city council, working hand in hand with the Chamber of Commerce, may make rapid strides. It is to be hoped that the greatest harmony continues to exist between these two bodies and that council open up the way to improvements which the big membership of the chamber may get behind and push over the goal. If this plan is carried out Lima will boom; will go ahead faster than it has ever done in the past and will become the envy of every city in the same class in the country.

PEACE MUST BE HASTENED

THE Wilson League of Nations is dead. Sixteen million people of this great country wrote its death warrant last November. They signified that the majority did not want the world pact, intended to bring peace and harmony to all nations.

There is talk of a new association of nations to accomplish the same end. President-Elect Harding announced that he has plans for such a combine. If he is able to formulate such a plan that will be a bar against war and will insure good will among the big family of nations, the entire world will rejoice.

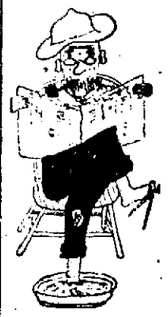

It must not be expected, however, that a world covenant can be made in a week or month or year. It will be a slow process and may not be possible for a number of years. Meanwhile we are still technically at war with Germany. We are the only nation which has not made peace and both our former enemy and ourselves are suffering as a result.

This newspaper believed the League of Nations opened a way to world peace and for that reason gave it its support. That agency now is out of the question and something to take its place is still to be conceived. For that reason it would appear that the government of this country would do well to look to a separate peace with Germany to end the unpleasant situation existing.

As long as we are technically, if not literally, at war with that country industry of both nations will suffer. They will not be able to earn money to pay their debts and take their place in the world which they must assume or all of Europe will suffer. This should be one of the first things considered by the in-coming administration.

RABBIT HUNTIN'

Like to call the dog an' go
Rabbit huntin' in the snow;
Like to get the boys an say,
"Git the chores all done today,
An' as soon as breakfast's done
We'll go out and have some fun.
Biggest job we've got to do
Is to earn a rabbit stew.

"Looks to me today as tho
Tracks are showin' in the snow,
An' around the brush pile there
Seems t'me I saw a pair
Jes' 'bout ready for the pot,
An' I think they should be got.
Anyhow we'll take the trail
After Mister Cottontail."

Days like that spent now an' then
Always have been good fer men.

An forget his daily chores
Jes' by trampin' out o' doors.
An' a good old rabbit chase
Brings the color to your face.

There is something in the air
Seems to blow away all care,
An' the bayin' of a dog
Heading towards some fallen log
Or the timber, takes you back
Years along lifes dreary track,
An' you're jes' as young an' strong
As the boy who's come along.

TODAY'S HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

COLD FEET

If one's socks are wet, it is difficult to keep the feet warm under all circumstances. And while perspiration is a harbinger and a sign of good health, it is not at all necessary to do all one's perspiring thru the feet. Nor is there any danger involved in the artificial prevention of perspiration of the feet or of any other limited area of the body. Therefore, the first step in the treatment of cold feet is the treament of excessive perspiration of the feet, and that is a simple matter.

There are two absolutely safe and effective ways to overcome excessive sweating of the feet. The first consists of a generous dusting inside the shoes and inside the toes of the stockings with powdered alum each day for several days, without washing the feet or, if they must be washed, then washing them with cold water only. The second method calls for the use of formaldehyde solution. This is sold in a standard strength of 40 per cent under the name of Formalin or Liquor Formaldehyde. One ounce, diluted with five ounces of water, makes a solution of about the right strength, and this is to be applied to the toes, the soles and between the toes only, by means of a brush or a wisp of cotton. It should be kept off the fingers. It may be applied once each alternate day for three or four times, and repeated after several weeks if required. As formaldehyde is a poison, none should be left about the house.

The wearing of round garters which impede free circulation, that false dignity which keeps feet always on the floor, whereas they should be frequently in the air, and the embarrassment of circulation caused by corsets which are not at all tight-fitting, are common factors of cold feet which suggest their own remedies.

Freak narrow, pointed, foot-constricting shoes, chippy style, so much affected by such birds of either sex, unnaturally contribute to coldness of the feet and to chilblain of frostbite.

Wool or silk stockings, not cotton, should be worn by persons with cold feet. But if comfort and health are to be enjoyed in the fullest possible degree, then the underwear should be about the same weight and texture of the stockings. I advise light weight materials for stockings and underwear, for all persons whose time is passed chiefly indoors in the winter; and wool or wool-silk material of a knitted character like that of stockings.

THE PARADISE MYSTERY

By J. S. FLETCHER

Bryce was all unconscious that any one was interested in his movements when he strolled out into Barthope market place just after 11. He had asked a casual question of the waiter and found that the old gentleman had departed. He accordingly bestirred himself free from observation. And forthwith he set about his work of inquiry in his own fashion. He was not going to draw any attention to himself by asking questions of present-day inhabitants, whose curiosity might then be aroused; he knew better methods than that. Every town, said Bryce to himself, possesses public records—parish registers, burgess rolls, list of voters; even small towns have directories which are more or less complete—he could search these for any mention or record of anybody or any family of the name of Braden. And he spent all that day in that search, inspecting numerous documents and registers and books; and when evening came he had a very complete acquaintance with the family nomenclature of Barthorpe, and he was prepared to bet odds against any one of the name of Braden having lived there during the last half century. In all his search he had not come across the name.

The man who had spent a very lazy day in keeping an eye on Bryce as he visited the various public places whereat he made his researches was also keeping an eye upon him next morning when Bryce, breakfasting earlier than usual prepared for a second day's labors. He followed his quarry away from the little town—Bryce was walking out to Braden Medworth. In Bryce's opinion, it was something of a wildgoose chase to go there, but the similarity in the name of the village and of the dead man at Wrychester might have its significance and it was but a two miles' stroll from Barthorpe. He found Braden Medworth a very small, quiet and picturesque place, with an old church on the banks of a river which promised good sport for anglers. And there he pursued his tactics of the day before and went straight to the vicarage and its vicar, with a request to be allowed to inspect the parish registers. The vicar, having no objection to earning the resultant fee, hastened to comply with Bryce's request, and inquired how far back he wanted to search and for what particular entry.

"No particular entry," answered Bryce, "and as to period—fairly recent. The fact is, I am interested in names. I am thinking"—he he used one more of his easily found inventions—"of writing a book on English surnames, and am just now inspecting parish registers in the Midlands for that purpose."

"Then I can considerably simplify your labors," said the vicar, taking down a book from one of his shelves. "Our parish registers have been copied and printed, and here is the volume—everything in there from 1570 to ten years ago, and there is a very full index. Are you staying in the neighborhood—or the village?"

"In the neighborhood, yes; in the village, no longer than the time I shall spend in getting some lunch at the in yonder," answered Bryce, nodding thru an open window at an ancient tavern which stood in the valley beneath, close to an old stone bridge. "Perhaps you will kindly lend me this book for an hour. Then, if I see anything very noteworthy in the index, I can look at the actual registers when I bring it back."

The vicar replied that was precisely what he had been about to suggest; and Bryce carried the book away. And when he sat in the inn parlor awaiting his lunch, he turned to the carefully compiled index, glancing thru it rapidly. On the third page he saw the name "Bewery."

If a man who had followed Bryce from Barthorpe to Braden Medworth had been with him in the quiet inn parlor he would have seen his quarry start and heard him let a stilfed exclamation escape his lips. But the follower, knowing, his man was safe for an hour, was in the bar outside, eating bread and cheese and drinking ale; and Bryce's surprice was witnessed by no one. Yet he had been so much surprised that if all Wrychester had been there he could not despite his self-training in watchfulness, have kept back either start or exclamation.

"Bewery"! A name so uncommon that here—here, in this out-of-the-way Midland village—there must be some connection with the object of his search. There the name stood out before him, to the exclusion of all others—Bewery—with just one entry of figures against it. He turned to page 387 with a sense of sure discovery.

And there an entry caught his eye at once; and he knew that he had discovered more than he had ever hoped for. He read it again and again, gloating over his wonderful luck—

June 19, 1891, John Brake, bachelor, of the parish of St. Pancras, London, to Mary Bewery, spinster, or this parish, by the vicar. Witnesses: Charles Claybourne, Selina Womersley, Mark Womersley, Mark Ransford.

Twenty-two years ago! The Mary Bewery whom Bryce knew in Wrychester was just about 20; this Mary Bewery, spinster, of Braden Medworth, was, then, in all probability, her mother. But John Brake, who married that Mary Bewery—who was he? Who, indeed laughed Bryce but John Braden who had come by his death in Wrychester Paradise? And there was the name of Mark Ransford as witness. What was the future possibility? That Mark Ransford had been John Brake's best man; that he was the Marco of the recent Times advertisement; that John Braden, or Brake, was the Sticker of the same advertisement. Clear! Clear as noonday! And what did it all mean and imply, and what bearing had it on Braden or Brake's death?

Before he ate his cold beef, Bryce had copied the entry from the reprinted registster and had satisfied himself that Ransford was not a name known to that village—Mark Ransford was the only person of the name mentioned in the register.

And his lunch done, he set off for the vicarage again, intent on getting further information, and before he reached the vicarage gates noticed, by accident, a place whereat he was more likely to get it than from the vicar—who was a youngish man. At the end of the few houses between the inn and the bridge he saw a little shop with the name Charles Claybourne painted roughly above its open window. In that open window sat an old; cheery-faced man mending shoos, who blinked at the stranger thru his big spectacles.

Bryce saw his chance and turned in —to open the book and point out the marriage entry.

"Are you the Charles Claybourne mentioned there " he asked without ceremony.

"That's me sir!" replied the old shoemaker briskly, after a glance. "Yes—right enough!"

"How came you to witness that marriage?" inquired Bryce.

The old man nodded at the church across the way.

"I've been sexton and parish clerk two-and-thirty years, sir," he said. "And I took it on from my father—and he had the job from his father."

"Do you remember this marriage?" asked Bryce, perching himself on the bench at which the shoemaker was working. "Twenty-two years since, I see."

"Aye, as if it was yesterday!" answered the old man with a smile. "Miss Bewery's marriage?—why, of course!"

"Who was she?" demanded Bryce.

"Governess at the vicarage," replied Claybourne. "Nice, sweet young lady."

"And the man she married?—Mr. Brake," continued Bryce. "Who was he?"

"A young gentleman who used to come here for the fishing now and then," answered Claybourne, pointing at the river. "Famous for our trout we are here, you know, sir. Mr. Brake had come here for three years before they were married—he and his friend Mr. Ransford."

"You remember him, too?" asked Bryce.

"Remember both of 'em very well indeed," said Claybourne, "tho I never set eyes on either after Miss Mary was wed to Mr. Brake. But I saw plenty of them before that. They used to put up at the inn there—that I saw you come out of just now. They came two or three times a year—and they were a bit thick with our parson at that time—not this one; his predecessor — and they used to go up to the vicarage and smoke their pipes and cigars with him—and of course, Mr. Brake and the governess fixed it up. Tho, you know, at one time it was considered it was going to be her and the other young gentleman. Mr. Ransford—yes! But, in the end, it was Brake—and Ransford stood best man for him."

Bryce assimilated all this information greedily—and asked for more.

"I'm interested in that entry," he said, tapping the open book. "I know some people of the name of Bewery—they may be relatives."

The shoemaker shook his head as if doubtful.

"I remember hearing it said," he remarked, "that Miss Mary had no relations. She'd been with the old vicar some time, and I dont remember any relations ever coming to see her, nor her going away to see any.

"Do you know what Brake was?" asked Bryce. "As you say he came heres good many times before the marriage. I suppose you'd hear something about his profession, or trade, or whatever it was?"

"He was a banker, that one," replied Claybourne. "A banker—that was his trade, sir, t'other gentleman. Mr. Ransford, he was a doctor—I mind that well enough, because once when him and Mr. Brake were fishing here, Thomas Joynt's wife fell downstairs and broke her leg, and they fetched him to her—he'd got it set before they'd got the reg'lar doctor out from Barthorpe yonder."

Bryce had now gotten all the information he wanted ,and he made the old parish clerk a small present and turned to go. But another question presented itself to his mind as he re-entered the little shop.

"Your late vicar?" he said. "The one in whose family Miss Bewery was governess—where is he now? Dead?

"Can't say whether he's dead or alive, sir," replied Claybourne. "He left this parish for another—a living in a different part of England—some years since and I haveh't heard much of him from that time to this—he never came back here once, not even to pay us a friendly visit—he was a queerish sort. But I'll tell you what, sir," he added, evidently anxious to give his visitor good value for his half-crown, "our present vicar has one of these books with the names of all the clergymen in 'em, and he'll tell you where his predecessor is now, if he's alive—anme of Rev. Thomas Gilwaters, M. H. A.—an Oxford college man he was, and very high learned."

Bryce went back to the vicarage, returned the borrowed book, and asked to look at the registers for the year 1891. He verified his copy and turned to the vicar.

"I accidentally came across the record of a marriage there in which I'm interested,' 'he said as he paid the search fees. "Celebrated by your predecessor, Mr. Gilwaters. I should be glad to now where Mr. Gilwaters is to be found. Do you happen to possess a clerical directory?"

The vicar produced a Crockford, and Bryce turned over its pages. Mr. Gilwaters, who from the account there given appeared to be an elderly man who had now retired, lived in London, in Bayswater, and Bryce made a note of his address and prepared to depart.

"Find any names that interested you?' 'asked the vicar as his caller left. "Anything noteworthy?"

"I found two or three names which interested me immensely," answered Bryce from the foot of the vicarage steps. "They were well worth searching for."

And without further explanation he marched off to Barthorpe duly followed by his shadow, who saw him safely into the Peacock an hour later—and, an hour after that went to the police superintendent with his report.

"Gone, sir," he said. "Left by the 5:30 express for London."

Bryce found himself at 11 o'clock next morning in a small book-lined parlor in a little house which stood in a quiet street in the neighborhood of Westbourne Grove. Over the mantlepiece, among other odds and ends of pictures, and photographs, hung a water-color drawing of Braden Medworth—and to him presently entered an old, silver-haired clergyman whom he at once took to be Braden Medworth's former vicar, and who glanced inquisitively at his visitor and then at the card which Bryce had sent in with a request for an interview.

"Doctor Bryce?" he said inquiringly. "Dr. Pemberton Bryce?"

Bryce made his best bow and assumed his suavest and most imigratiating manner.

"I hope I am not intruding on your, Mr. Gilwaters?" he said. "The fact is I was referred to you, yesterday, by the present vicar of Braden Medworth—both he and the sexton there. Claybourne, whom you, of course, remember, thought you would be able to give me some information on a subject which is of great importance—to me."

"I don't know the present vicar," remarked Mr. Gilwaters, motioning Bryce to a chair, and taking another close by. "Claybourne, of course, I remember very well indeed—he must be getting an old man now—like myself! What is it you want to know, now?"

"I shall have to take you into my confidence," replied Bryce, who had carefully laid his pains and prepared his story, "and you, I am sure, Mr. Gilwaters, will respect mine. I have for two years been in practice at Wrychester, and have there made the acquaintance of a young lady whom I earnestly desire to marry. She is the ward of the man to whom I have been assistant. And I think you will begin to see why I have come to you when I say that this young lady's name is—Mary Bewery."

The old clergyman started, and looked at his visitor with unusual interest. He grasped the arm of his elbow chair and leaned forward.

"Mary Bewery!" he said in a low whisper what—what is the name of the man who is her—guardian

"Dr. Mark Ransford," answered Bryce promptly.

The old man sat upright again, with a little toss of his head.

"Bless my soul!" he exclaimed. "Mark Ransford! Then—it must have been as I feared and suspected!"

Bryce made no remark. He knew at once that he had struck on something and it was his method to let people take their own time. Mr. Gilwaters had already fallen into something closely resembling a reverie: Bryce sat silently waiting and expectant. And at last the old man leaned forward again, almost eagerly.

"What is it you want to know?" he asked, repeating his first question. "Is—is there some—some mystery?"

"Yes!" replied Bryce. "A mystery that I want to solve, sir. And I dare say that you can help me, if you'll be so good. I am convinced—in fact, I know!—that this young lady is in ignorance of her parentage, that Ransford is keeping some fact, some truth back from her—and I want to find things out. By the merest chance—accident, in fact—I discovered yesterday at Braden Medworth that some 22 years ago you married one Mary Bewery, who, I learnt there, was your governess, to a John Brake, and that Mark Ransford was John Brake's best man and a witness of the marriage. Now, Mr. Gilwaters the similarity in names is too striking to be devoid of significanle. So—it's of the utmot importance to me—who was the Mary Bewery you married to John Brake? Who was John Brake? And what was Mark Ransford to either, or to both?"

HER OWN CAREER

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

BISCUITS

"Please let me help you, Miss Gwenda, I really am an expert in the kitchen, in spite of my being an editor-person, and all that," said John Neale, supplicatingly. "There is no earthly reason why I should not beat that dough for you, or cut that cake and open that can of peaches, you know. I know just what to do, even to setting a table, for I had as good a training as you did, not only back home, but in the army, and down in the tropics. This takes me back to the dear old place in Nebraska, for fair. I used to fuss round my mammy at night, when she'd be fixing supper for her hungry brood, and needed her boy to help her a wee bit. And, gee, didn't I used to be proud when she'd let me! She used to shoo my two sisters out of the pantry and tell them to 'run along, 'cause John was just as equal to helpin' her as they were.' And those two growing girls, with their heads full of anything but house duties, were always too ticked to let me help out, I can tell you."

"Yep, that's the stock I come from, Miss Gwenda, the salt of the earth they are, too, bless them. And at this very moment the old home gate is yawning wide against my return, for they still hope and pray that the wanderer will come back to his own people. That's the undying faith in their honest hearts. But I'm afraid they have a long wait still, for I'm just at the beginnings of things, and I feel that fame is beckoning to me from hills most far away. And no man can resist that exacting mistress."

"Maybe we'll both be tickled to death to see the old roads once more, you and I, John Neale," suggested Gwenda, wisely, as she popped her pan of biscuit into the tiny oven, with a sigh of relief.

"I wonder now," he answered, slowly. "No use making any bets against such a probability, even tho at this moment Paris, London and the world of great events are the only things that seem worth while to me. Just to get to Paris, London, and try myself out there. That is my idea of what I must do, just now."

"And mine, too," confided Gwenda, softly. "Tho I don't tell Fern this, for she thinks that I am perfectly content to settle here and go no further. The blood of other ancestors than those stay-at-home farmer folk is in my veins, however, and will have its way, before I ever settle to any pine woods again. That I do know," she finished with a positive little nod of her head.

"I'll watch the biscuit if you want to set the table, yourself," volunteered John. "You know best where the silver and china is, and it will take you less time than it would me."

"Be with you in a jiffy, thanks," smiled Gwenda, as she clutched a pile of silver to her and caught up a tray of china and whisked out.

"Biscuits," said John to himself, reminescently, as he stood staring into space. "Biscuits."

PATTERN FOR TODAY

3317

A NEW AND STYLISH GOWN

Pattern 3317 was employed for this design. It is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size will require 5 1-4 yards of 42 inch material.

Serge and fancy silk or satin braided with soutache or with floss would be attractive for this model. It is also good for velveteen, taffeta, velours, duvetyn, jersey cloth, faille or broad cloth. The width of the skirt at the foot is about 1 3-4 yard.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 16 cents in silver or stamps.

STOMACH ON A STRIKE

"Pape's Diapepsin" puts Sour, Gassy, Acid Stomachs in order at once!

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage — do you? Well don't bother. If your stomach is in revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food—just eat a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless antacid is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs so little at durg stores.—Adv.

Washing that will make Clothes Wear Longer

The many methods for washing clothes can be reduced to two classifications.

Either they wear clothes out quickly—or they make clothes longer-lived.

Only the sturdiest homespuns could endure the scrub-board treatment to which grand-mother subjected the family washing.

you to obtain the longest possible service from the household you t oobtain the longest possible service from the household linens and garments you buy.

When you send your family washing to us, the clothes are never jerked back and forth over a wash-board. Our method is the simpler one of sousing and rinsing in water of wonderful softness and suds of pure white soap.

We use the same principle you adopt when you wash your favorite Georgette waist by lifting and lowering in a bowl.

Do your Monday washing the clothes-saving way by giving your family bundle to our representative.

ARE "THUMBS DOWN" ON YOUR SUCCESS?

Are "Hard Times" Causing You Worry or Distress?

How you may make money and "get ahead" in spite of "hard times" and business depression

In the days of the old Roman Arena "THUMBS DOWN" from the audience meant death to the wounded and fallen gladiator; Thumbs up was the signal to let him live.

Today "THUMBS DOWN" on your BODILY and MENTAL VIGOR may mean FAILURE AND FINANCIAL RUIN to you. It is the strong keen red blooded man who is the most certain to win and come home with the "CASH"—many of the others are going to fall under the terrible spell of "thumbs down" just like the weak, unnerved man in this picture. This poor man is trying hard to get up but he hasn't the bodily and mental vigor and the necessary iron in his blood to give him the strength, force and "will power" to overcome the obstacles caused by "HARD TIMES."

YOUR BRAIN CANNOT WORK RIGHT—think the thoughts that are most certain to bring success—when you lack bodily and mental vigor—A great business man has said that genius is nothing but a capacity for hard work—A wizard is generally a man who thinks longer and harder than the other fellow—That "INDEFINABLE SOMETHING" that wins is often nothing more than an "iron-will" supported by IRON BLOOD—With these two things nothing can stop you—without them, everything is uncertain.

IRON IS THE MASTER PRINCIPLE OF THE BLOOD and BLOOD IS LIFE. It is the iron in your blood that carries oxygen to your brain. Without iron your brain gets no oxygen. Without oxygen and plenty of rich red blood, your brain becomes dull and heavy. YOUR INTELLECT IS POOR; YOU MAKE BAD DECISIONS; DO FOOLISH THINGS; your memory often fails—no matter how smart you may be by nature, in your weakened physical and mental condition you are certainly no match for the strong, keen, clear headed man with plenty of iron in his blood. Although you may give two men the same firearms or swords in a battle, the strong vigorous fellow always has a decided advantage over a weak tired-out opponent.

WITHOUT IRON—YOUR BLOOD ALSO LOSES ITS POWER TO CHANGE FOOD INTO LIVING CELLS AND TISSUE and nourishing you can does you the proper amount of good you do not get the full strength out of it. In fact sometimes the more you eat the more you starve, as your digestive organs are unable to handle much food when your blood lacks iron and you often think you have stomach trouble, when it isn't that at all. Simply eat less and take Iron. They are 20,000,000,000 Red Blood Corpuscles in your blood and each one must have iron. DON'T TRY TO "FOOL YOURSELF" into thinking you are a man of "blood and iron when" you have good reason to suspect that you are not—CONSIDER THE SIZE OF YOUR BANK BALANCE what success you have had in life—A MAN IS ONLY PART OF A MAN WHEN HIS BLOOD LACKS IRON.

When you get up feeling tired in the morning, when you find yourself nervous, irritable and easily upset when you can no longer do your day's work without being all fagged out at night; or have pains across the back and your face looks pale and drawn, do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration or until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, but take some organic iron like Nuxated Iron at once to help enrich your blood and revitalize your warn-out exhausted nerves. Organic Nuxated Iron often increases the bodily and mental vigor of weak, tired, worn-out, nervous people in two weeks. It's like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. You can even set it if you wish. It will not blacken or injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. It is entirely different from ordinary metallic iron which people usually take, and which is made mostly by the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron—worse or substitutes. Look for the word "NUXATED" on every package and the letters N. I. on every tablet. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactor sults. At all druggists.

NUXATED IRON ENRICHES THE BLOOD · GIVES YOU NEW STRENGTH AND ENERGY

LIMA A COAL DUMP

Thousands of tons of Coal, much of it of an inferior quality has been shipped into Lima this winter in search of a market. Such coal is known in the trade as "Distressed Coal" and some coal haulers handle such coal because it can be sold cheap to those who consider "Price" before "Quality."

Our MANHATTAN LUMP is mined by the Manhattan Mining Co., our NYCO BLOCK by the New York Coal Co.; these companies think enough of their product to brand it with their own name.

These are "QUALITY"" coals. We know. For Coal Satisfaction try them.

FARMERS TO OPEN WHEAT STATIONS

Adopt Direct Selling Plan at Chicago Meeting

"SAVES 55 CENTS BUSHEL"

To Handle Export Grain in Similar Manner

CHICAGO — A co-operative plan for the selling of wheat was adopted Saturday by the executive board of the National Association of Wheat Grower. Members of the board said the plan would mean the saving of approximately 55 cents a bushel thru elimination of the middleman's profit.

The growers plan to establish central receiving stations in each state where the farmers may send their wheat and obtain a receipt for it. From these elevators the wheat will be sold direct to the millers. Stations for receiving wheat also will be established at all large seaports to handle export trade, it was announced.

"The farmers get $1 40 a bushel for their wheat which costs from $2 50 to $2.75 to raise," said W. C. McGreery of Wichita, Kansas, secretary of the association.

"If something is not done at once to relieve the situation, the farmers will be forced to stop raising wheat.

"By our new plan, we will dispense with at least two middlemen in the handling of the grain and in some instances a third and a fourth."

MARSHALL FIELD REVIEW

Marshall Field & Company, in their weekly review of the wholesale dry goods trade, say:

Current wholesale distribution of dry goods compares very favorably in bulk and yardage with the corresponding week of last year, altho owing to the present lower level of prices it represents a smaller volume of sales.

Orders from salesmen on the road for merchandise for immediate delivery are substantially the same in volume as for the same period of 1920.

There are many more customers in the house than during this period last year. Most of them are purchasing seasonable merchandise at this time in anticipation of the Easter trade.

Collections remain at about the same standard as during the past few weeks.

MARKETS CLOSED ON HOLIDAY

Local Securities in Poor Demand Except Sheet Metal.

With the New York stock and the Chicago grain markets closed yesterday, there was little doing in financial circles. Local banks had intended to close, but because of Saturday, decided it would be too big an inconvenience to merchants and manufacturers, as well as the public.

This has been the dullest week of the year in the sale of local securities or for investment buying. Lima Sheet Metal Products is the only local stock to show activity, 1800 shares of this stock selling at the $10 par value. Bank stocks continue to be wanted, but there are none on the market. It is said the Sheet Metal stock will be withdrawn from the public March 12th, as the big demand for the Ford battery specialify of this concern forecasts an advance above par.

The week's bank clearings show trade off approximately 25 per cent from a year ago ,but there was little change in pay-rolls over the city. The banks report heavy inquiry for loans, with old paper being renewed rather than paid off. And the six per cent rate still governs. Real estate is dull, in side property being firm and a shortage of money at the building and loans preventing much shifting.

PRODUCE MARKET

(By Swift o.)

Egg production has shown notable increase thruou l producing territories; prices have declined, and better demand is expected, due to the Lenten season.

Poultry receipts are normal for this time of the year, and prices show little change.

The butter market was lower during the earlier p.rt of the week, but the market re-acted at the close. There is still a large amount of storage butter to be marketed and heavy importations of butter from Denmark are forecast.

The Last Call is Out,

Most of us find it hard work to make money for ourselves in any great amount.

To buy into a company, and have someone make money for us is a harder job than to make it for ourselves.

Yet such an oportunity is offered in a purchase of the stock of the Lima Sheet Metal Products Company. This company is eighteen months old and in the last month made more money, than any other month in its history, and THAT IN THE FACE OF THE WORST TIMES WHICH THIS COUNTRY HAS EXPERIENCED IN A NUMBER OF YEARS.

The LAST OPPORTUNITY TO PURCHASE THIS STOCK AT $10 PER SHARE is being given you right now. If the stock lasts that long on Saturday, March 12, 1921, at 9 o'clock in the evening, this sale will be over for all time

What the price will be after that, no one can tell, but the way this company is making money, ANY REASONABLE FIGURE WE COULD SET WOULD NOT BE EXTRAVAGANT.

Don't wait for us to see or phone you. Come into the office and make your arrangements now to buy this stock for cash or on installments covering a period of six months.

Failure of Insulation is Not Excepted in the Philadelphia Two-Year Guarantee

THE separators or insulators are an essential part of a storage battery. Properly constructed they should last as long as any other part of the battery.

Under the Philadelphia Two-Year Guarantee, failure of insulation is a basis for adjustment just the same as the failure of any other part.

But Philadelphia insulation does not fail—for three reasons:

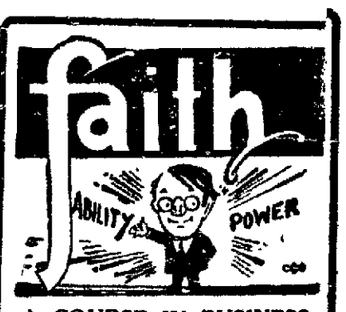

1. Philadelphia battery plates are long lived, but the patented separators, of quarter-sawed hard wood, are sufficiently strong to outlast the plates.
2. The rigidity of the Diamond Grid relieves them from pressure and strain.
3. The Philco Slotted Retainers offer still further protection by preventing contact between the separators and the positive plates.

A woman about to board a trolley car at a Boston suburb, asked the conductor:

"Does this car go to Mattepan?"

"No, madam," replied the conductor.

"That's funny," remarked the woman.

"Yes, madam, but I haven't got time to laugh,' 'rotorted the conductor, pulling his bell rope.

The next day the superintendent of the line called the conductor before him and asked:

"What was it you said to that woman yesterday, when she said it was funny your car did not go to Mattepan?"

The conductor grinned and replied, "I said yes, it was funny, but I was late and did not have time to laugh."

"Take three days off without pay and laugh," replied the superintendent.
